

VOLUME LIII.

JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, THURSDAY, APRIL 22, 1909.

BULL MARKET BROKE TODAY; WHEAT DROPS

Prices Tumble Downward With Wonderful
Rapidity In Chicago Wheat Pit.

JAMES A. PATTEN ON HIS WAY WEST

Wild Scenes Are Enacted As End Comes To Big Bull
Boost Of Prices Of Wheat—Many Cents Lopped
Off Yesterday's Close.

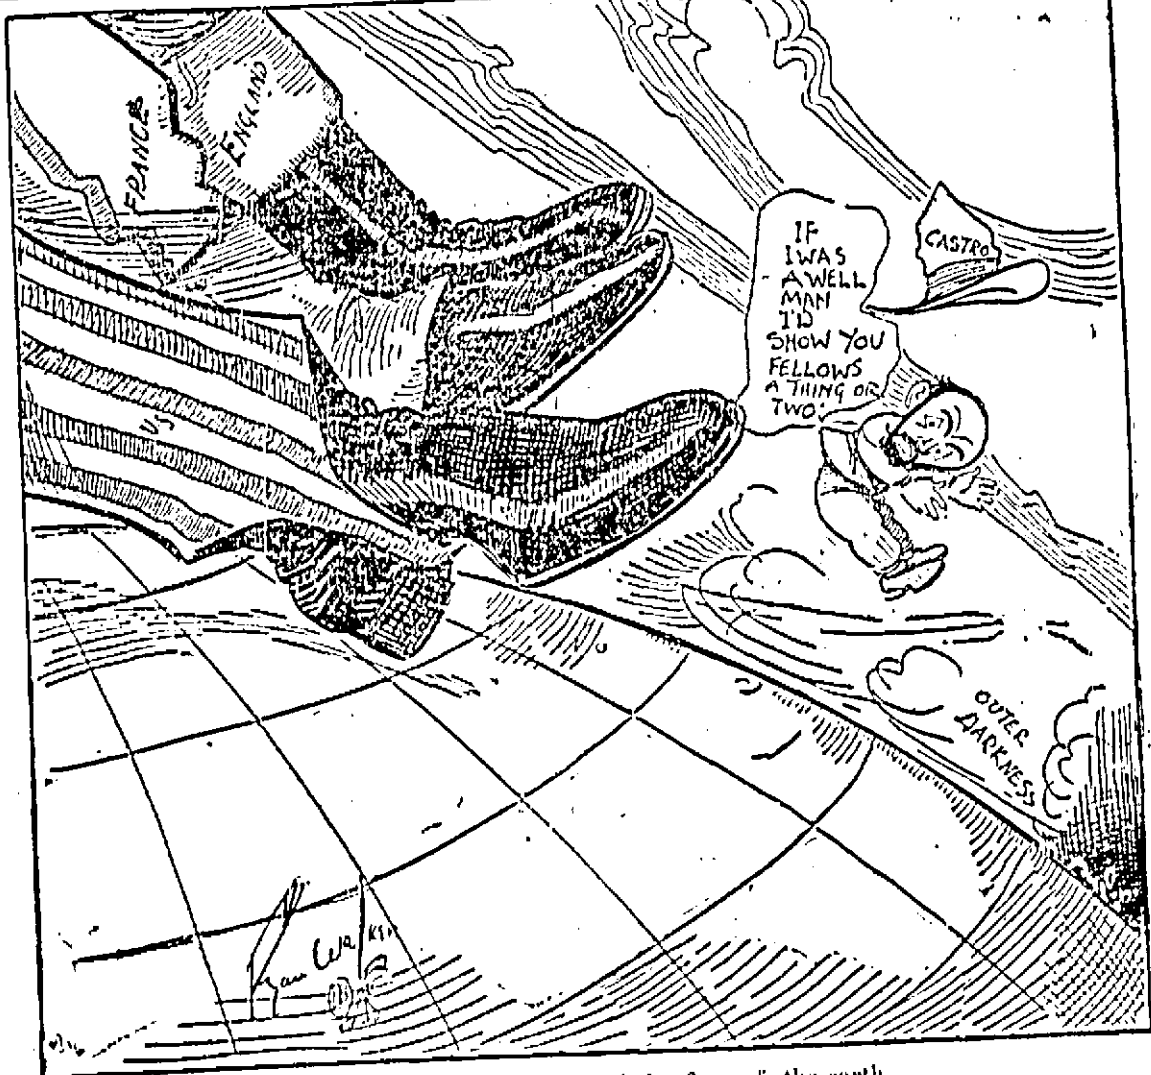

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Ill., April 22.—The bull campaign in wheat, so far as the public is concerned, has been abandoned. The bull leader, James A. Patten, now on his way to visit a ranch in Colorado, changed his views.
These and other questions were rife today when the slump in wheat continued, prices declining 8 to 8 1/2 cents below the record prices of last week when Patten declared wheat was worth intrinsically every cent being paid for it.
A week ago May wheat sold here for $1.29 3/4 and July at $1.18 3/4. An eight cent decline made a big hole in paper profits. There have also been heavy actual losses among the traders whose resources have given out and their trades closed. In the Bartlett-

July near the close touched $1.08 1/2 and May $1.21. May closed at $1.21, July at $1.09 1/2, $1.10.

In New York.
New York, April 22.—On the heavy selling, some of it attributed to Chicago interests, wheat declined 3 to 3 1/2 cents here today.

Patten Located.
Hutchinson, Kas., April 22.—James A. Patten, the Chicago wheat bull, passed through this city enroute to Trinidad, Colo., to visit friends. Mr. Patten said he was not making any investigation of the wheat fields, but focusing from newspaper publicity.

Starts For Ranch.
Trinidad, Colo., April 22.—James A. Patten, the Chicago wheat king, arrived here today and left soon after.

The Only Place for Castro—off the face of the earth.

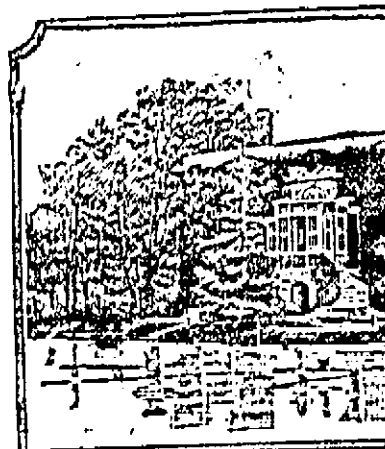

FURTHER TROUBLES KNOWN TO DISTURB THE COUNTRY

Moslems Aided By Tribesmen Have Attacked
Many Christian Communities.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Belnet, April 22.—Five American women missionaries are in danger in the village of Adana. The villages surrounding Adana are in flames and Hadjin itself is invested by Nomad Tribes. One of the missionaries, Miss Lambert, sent an appeal to the coast for immediate help.
The town of Adana was sacked and burned. At least a hundred persons were killed and houses burned and five thousand are homeless.
Ten Thousand Dead.
Constantinople, April 22.—Advices received here today state that ten thousands of the committee of the Union and the authorities within the city regarding the Sultan up to two o'clock this afternoon. The government may go on with the Sultan at its head as before the revolt of April 13, for an indefinite period.

Is Settled.
Constantinople, 2 p. m.—The Sultan and the chief of the constitutional party reached an agreement under the terms of which the Majesty remains as sovereign of the empire, but with powers more restricted than before the palace conspiracy of April 13th.

THE REAL CAUSE OF THE TURKISH TROUBLES.
THE SULTAN OF TURKEY AND HIS CHAMBER OF HORRORS.

thousand Armenians were massacred at Adana and vicinity.
A dispatch from Mesopotamia says Hadjin is beleaguered by Moslem tribesmen. Up to the present two persons were killed.
Early Report.
Constantinople, April 22.—No agreement was reached between the mem-

GERMAN SURGEON TO GIVE UP PRACTICE

Sir Felix Semon, Leading Throat
Specialist Of Europe To Give Up Active Surgical Work.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, April 22.—By the retirement from practice next month of Sir Felix Semon the career of the leading throat specialist in Europe will be brought to a close. Sir Felix, who was born at Danzig sixty years ago, was the son of a stockbroker, and his work as a surgeon, and his subjects have earned him a wide reputation. Patients have even come from America to seek his advice, and not long ago the Khedive of Egypt was one who consulted him.
A German by birth, Sir Felix served his country in the war of 1870, joining the 2nd Uhlan as a volunteer. He took part in several engagements, and was present at the sieges of Metz and Paris. Several medals rewarded him of his military achievements.

Y. W. C. A. DELEGATES GATHER IN ST. PAUL

Hundreds Of Fair Sex Meeting In Minnesota's Capital For Discussions and Conference.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
St. Paul, Minn., April 22.—Several hundred delegates, representing a membership of more than 181,000 young women, are attending the national biennial convention of the Young Women's Christian Association at the Central Presbyterian church in this city. The delegates come from nearly all parts of the United States and Canada.
Rev. Andrew Gillies led the prayer service at the opening session this afternoon. Miss Grace Dodge of New York, national president, presided, and the chief speaker was Miss Mary E. Woolley, president of Mount Holyoke, who took as her subject the Y. W. C. A. movement in relation to the problems of the women of today.
President Cyrus Northrop of the University of Minnesota presided at the session tonight. With President Francis J. McConnell of Boston presiding as the chief speaker. Other persons of note are to be heard at the succeeding sessions of the convention include Bishop Charles P. Anderson of Chicago, Rev. Samuel L. Swencer of the Rochester Theological Seminary, and Walter M. Wood, secretary of the Philadelphia Y. W. C. A. The convention will remain in session until next Tuesday and will be followed by a two days' conference of Y. W. C. A. secretaries in Minneapolis.

NOTES OF INTEREST IN WORLD OF SPORT

Opening Of Baseball Season In Eastern And Virginia Leagues—Lakewood Golf Tourney.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Lynchburg, Va., April 22.—With all signs pointing to an interesting pennant race, the Virginia League starts the season of 1909 today. Opening games are scheduled as follows: Portsmouth at Norfolk, Danville at Richmond, and Roanoke at Lynchburg. The schedule provides for a season of 126 games, to close Sept. 11.
Eastern League.
Providence, R. I., April 22.—The Eastern League, with the circuit unchanged from last year, opened its season today, with Buffalo playing in Jersey City, Toronto in Newark, Rochester in Baltimore and Montreal in this city. Sept. 27 will be the closing date of the season.
Spring Golf At Lakewood.
Lakewood, N. J., April 22.—The annual spring amateur golf tournament of the Lakewood Country Club began today under auspicious conditions, and will continue through the remainder of this week.

HISTORY COMMISSION MAKES ITS REPORT

Possibilities Of Research and Publication Discussed In the Findings
Given To Legislature.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., April 22.—The second biennial report of the Wisconsin History Commission, which was created in 1907, was sent to the legislature this morning. The report is compiled by Assemblyman C. E. Lathrop of Milwaukee, chairman, and it is the work of Madison secretaries. Of the other members of the commission are Governor Davidson, H. E. Logier, and P. J. Turner.
The commission has sufficiently surveyed the ground to realize that the possibilities of research and publication in the line of state history are considerable," says the report. In the newspaper files and the pamphlet collection in the state historical society, a considerable mass of material, contemporary, discursive, material, well worthy of the researcher and the collector, is to be found, as well as the preparation of copy for the printer, and the employment of skilled workers. There is also much to be done in the gathering, editing, and annotating of Wisconsin documentary material, such as the messages and correspondence of the state governors, legislative acts and resolutions, and the various state government publications, the raising, mustering, equipment, and payment of our troops, and the maintenance in the field and in hospitals, and their final mustering out.

CLAIMS COMMITTEE TO BE OVERWORKED

Last Days Of the Session Will Find
This Department Exceptionally Busy.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., April 22.—The closing days of the legislative session will bring hours of overwork to the members of the claims committee. All of the bills favorably passed upon by other committees, if carrying an appropriation, are sent to the claims committee for a hearing. There are many a meritorious bill now before the committee because of the straitened conditions of the state's finances. Nearly all of the appropriations are being cut in two this year and there will be orders of state government. The introduction yesterday of a new bill by the committee on capital and grounds, that will allow an expenditure of not to exceed $100,000, annually in order to hasten completion of the new capitol, will probably necessitate a state tax next fall. Many of the regular appropriations allowed two years ago will be cut down this year "in the spirit of economy."

BOYLE ATTEMPTS TO ESCAPE FROM JAIL

Man Arrested For Kidnaping White
Boy Would Have Taken
French Leave.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Merced, Pa., April 22.—An attempt to liberate James H. Boyle, charged with the White kidnaping, from jail was made last night, according to jail officials. That the attempt failed was due to the night watchman discovering a ladder under Boyle's window.

MAN DROWNS IN RIVER AT GREEN BAY THIS MORNING

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Green Bay, Wis., April 22.—Don Marcott of Kankakee, Ill., fell from a dock into the Fox river this morning and was drowned in less than three feet of water. He leaves a wife, three children, two brothers, and one sister. Marcott was 35 years old. This is the third accident by drowning in Fox river in less than three months.

SPANIARDS TO OPEN A SCHOOL FOR BULLFIGHTERS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madrid, April 22.—A University of bullfighting has been established at Bilbao, and will open its doors July 1. It will take the place of the famous San Vicente Bullfighting School, which was suppressed by King Ferdinand VII. early in the nineteenth century.

Freight Rate Hearing

Kansas City, Mo., April 22.—Pursuant to an order of the state railroad commission, acting on the advice of Attorney General Major, a hearing was begun in this city today on the question of the proposed reduction of Missouri freight rates on all classes of commodities including articles named in the maximum freight rate cases. The railroad commissioners plan to reduce the rates to a point just above the rates named in the maximum freight rate law which the state was recently enjoined from enforcing.

TRIES WHOLESALE SLAUGHTER OF THE ENTIRE FAMILY

Ends Up By Taking His Own Life—
Killed His Wife And Wounds
Others.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, April 22.—Harry L. Sumner, a nickel-plater, today shot and killed his wife and seriously wounded his ten-year old daughter and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Anna McKenzle, and then killed himself.

Cost $8,000: Wm. H. H. Macdon, a Republican Candidate for the nomina- tion of mayor at his primaries, has filled his campaign account with $8,000. The expense account totaled $8,000, of which went to local papers. The expense accounts of Mayor W. F. Carter and John C. Nichols are ex- pected to be filed within the next two or three days.

PAINT MEN BUSY AT THE STATE CAPITOL

Want to Defeat Measure That Would Compel Them to Print
Their Formula.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., April 22.—Some day next week the members of the legislature will be told more about paint, its composition and formula for manufacture than they ever dreamed of ascertaining. The committee on dairy and food will recommend the Crawford bill with amendment for passage. This bill will insure purity of turpentine, linseed oil, white lead and zinc. This measure has little opposition. But the measure for labeling of all paints sold in the state will create a stir.
Yesterday paint manufacturers were given a hearing upon the bill. State Dairy and Food Commissioner J. Q. Emery favored its passage. He thought that a law that would compel the manufacturer to tell the consumer what the paint was composed of would prevent fraud. The paint manufacturers thought different. They thought the measure would almost annihilate them; it would disclose to the public their secret formulas upon which they had worked for years and would make it possible for any person to mix this kind of paint. Some said it would drive them out of the state and the Dallyman & Cooper company with offices at Minneapolis and Fond du Lac were practically served notice that it would leave Wisconsin. Afterwards it was told that work upon their factory had been temporarily stopped to await the outcome of legislation. An Oakbrook manufacturer had a similar experience.
One of the principal arguments was made by George Spratt, head of the big paint company at Sheboygan. He said that such a law would help the mail order business and that a spurious article could be sold direct to the consumer without having to label it according to the rules of interstate commerce.

It was pointed out that a similar law had been recently repealed in Ohio and that during the past few months the bill had been defeated in Pennsylvania, Illinois, Kansas, Texas, Missouri and several other states. The fight for the Crawford bill is backed by Mr. Emery, who believes that the same protection should be extended to the consumers of paint as have been in other commodities. The committee favors the Crawford bill. The measure comes up on the floor of the assembly tomorrow. An interesting fight waged on the ground that the public has no right to know the secret formulas which a person may have spent a lifetime in perfecting. It is said that the house almost evenly divided over the measure and the contest will be sharp if not acrimonious.

TEXAS TRAVELERS MEET

Fort Worth, Texas, April 22.—Fort Worth extended a cordial welcome today to the many delegates and visitors assembled for the nineteenth annual convention of the Texas division of the Travelers' Protective Association. The initial session was held in Hyatt's opera-house this morning. The program opening with prayer by Rev. Burrow H. Burroughs and an address of welcome by Mayor W. D. Williams. For the visiting delegates an appropriate response was made by President J. W. Graves. After luncheon the convention reassembled for business. Reports from the several officers showed a highly flourishing condition. The gathering will continue three days, during which will be interspersed with elaborate entertainment provided for the delegates and the ladies who accompany them.

Mystic Shrines

Charleston, S. C., April 22.—The red fez worn by the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine is conspicuous about the hotels and other places today, and the regalia of the order is attracting attention in all parts of the city. The occasion is a fraternal visit paid by the Omba temple of North Carolina to the Omba temple of South Carolina. The Omba temple of South Carolina provides for a coronation session, a reception and concert and a trip to the Isle of Palms. Places and time the thousands of visitors from the two states have received the heartiest kind of a welcome.

HOPKINS CAN NOT GAIN ANY VOTES ON THE BALLOT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Springfield, Ill., April 22.—The forty-fourth joint ballot for United States senator today resulted: Hopkings 73, Foster 17, Shurtliff 18, Stricker 23, Henry 8. To appear 25, quartermaster 11. There will be no recount tomorrow, and the actual balloting will be resumed Tuesday.

JAMES A. PATTEN ENTERING A CAB AT THE BOARD OF TRADE
AFTER HE HAD THOROUGHLY DEMONSTRATED HIS CONTROL
OF THE WHEAT MARKET BY HIS PERSONALLY CONDUCTED
CAMPAIGN ON THE FLOOR OF THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Chicago, Ill.—Much has been told of the wonderful wealth of James A. Patten, but the inside life of this colossus of the board of trade is little known.

"Jim" Patten is the way he is addressed by his intimate friends. Like some other wealthy men, he absolutely refuses to get into a dress suit, although he frequently attends society functions of the dress suit variety. He is stockily built, weighs 170 pounds and lives in a magnificent half-million dollar home at Evanston, Ill. He is very generous with his money and among other donations has given the Chicago Art Institute $250,000, the Northwestern university $125,000, and many other less ambitious donations. Mr. Patten is a politician and strong Patten offices the bronk is characterized as a flurry.

The further tremendous drive at the so-called wheat corner to many traders spelled the end of the big bull market.

SPRING SHOOTING BILL WAS BEATEN

By Vote of 40 to 40 the Assembly
Kills Measure of Hunters.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., April 22.—The debate on spring shooting took up the time of the assembly this morning. The proposition was to take ten days off the fall open season and have a ten day open season in the spring. The chief opposition argument was that spring shooting was too destructive to the fowls.
The bill was killed 40 to 40 and there will be no spring shooting allowed.
The senate passed a bill appropriating $6,500 more for the senatorial investigation.
The senate today advanced the Milwaukee non-partisan election bill after a debate in which the chief object seemed to be the fear of socialism.

IS JANESVILLE MAN DEAD AT MADISON?

Police Notified That Charles H. Evermann Thought to Be From Here Committed Suicide.

Later this afternoon the police were notified by Coroner Lynch of Madison that a man thought to be Charles H. Evermann of Janesville had committed suicide. He is thought to be a brother of Friedrich H. Evermann of this city.

ROOSEVELT'S PARTY OFF FOR A JUNGLE

Start Inland From Mombasa to Enjoy
First Hunting They Plan For.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Mombasa, April 22.—The Roosevelt party left here on a special train this afternoon for Kapiti Plains station, whence they will be conveyed to the ranch of Sir Alfred Pender for their first shooting trip. The party will remain a week.

TO HANG MAN WHO KILLED POLICEMAN OF CHICAGO

David Anderson, Convicted Of Murder Of Policeman Michael Callahan Executed Tomorrow.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Ill., April 22.—Preparations have been concluded at the county jail for the execution tomorrow of David Anderson, convicted murderer of Policeman Michael Callahan. The murder of Policeman Callahan occurred Jan. 9, 1908, when he sought to arrest Anderson and a companion, the latter being killed by the policeman.

WOMAN STABBED IN FIGHT DIES IN MILWAUKEE HOSPITAL

Half Brother And Companion Arrested
Charged With Causing Her Death.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., April 22.—Stabbed in the abdomen during a free-for-all fight on Sunday afternoon, Miss Stach Wojelchowski died at the emergency hospital at four o'clock this morning, and the police have filed charges of murder against Peter Wojelchowski, the dead woman's halfbrother, and Andrew Andrzejewski, two of the men arrested following the fray.

FATHER-IN-LAW OF VICTIM OF MOSLEM MOB KNOWN HERE

Dr. Daniel Milner Rogers, who was killed by the Moslems at Adana while trying to save one of his women converts from being burned to death, was the son-in-law of Dr. Thomas D. Christie who preached in Janesville last summer during the absence of Dr. Deakson. From the latest reports Dr. Christie is thought to be safe.

TAKES STAND IN HIS OWN BEHALF

ELLISWORTH CONTINUES TO GIVE HIS TESTIMONY TODAY.

TELLS OF THE DEAL MADE

What Mrs. Kennedy Bought And How She Agreed to Pay For It—Interest Kept Up in Trial.

Declaring that he was ill and in no condition to testify at the examination in municipal court and that by reason of this fact he had only vague recollections of what he said on the stand during the trial, Ellisworth today made no positive admissions regarding any of his previous testimony which District Attorney Fisher sought to impeach in the cross-examination. He declared that the nursery order which has been the subject of so many inquiries was for stock worth $2,500 and that Mrs. Kennedy was to pay $1,250 on delivery. Witness admitted that he was mistaken if he said during the examination in municipal court that he was in Milwaukee on Feb. 10, 1908, as he was in Madison at the time. This was established by consulting his diary. He was in Milwaukee on Feb. 18 and 19 and Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Pouchen were there at the time. He thought Mrs. Kennedy registered at the Division hotel after he did. Though he had declared that he and Mrs. Kennedy were simultaneously registered at the same Milwaukee hotel on three different occasions, he could not give dates or any particulars concerning more than two instances. While he was not certain whether or not he gave a gold heart to the complaining witness he rather thought he was mistaken if he testified in municipal court that he did not present her with such a gift. About the time he had the iron box made for Kennedy he had a large one constructed for himself. Witness had never lived with his mother and did not know whether or not his step-father was alive.

Record of an Arrest

District Attorney Fisher at this juncture opened a series of inquiries regarding the defendant's alleged visit to Tipton, Iowa, on a certain occasion. When the prosecution asked Ellisworth who accompanied him on the trip and what hotel he stopped at, witness did not remember the names. At this juncture Atty. Nolin interposed an objection, citing the law which declares that a man cannot be disgraced before a court by the presentation of a mere record of an arrest not followed by any conviction. The objection was sustained. In answer to other questions witness said that he went to Tipton about 5 years ago and that he didn't think he had spent a night in Quincy in the past 6 years. Asked if he registered at the St. Nicholas hotel at Springfield in 1906 under the name of E. Ellisworth, witness was unable to give a positive answer. He said that the stock actually was put out at Kennedy farm was worth $1,500 and included in his compensation 2,000 young apple trees which he subsequently explained were what are known as "grafts."

Other Errors Corrected

On the witness stand this morning Mr. Ellisworth admitted that if he testified at the examination that he visited the Kennedy farm on the afternoon of March 30, 1908, he was mistaken; that he was likewise mistaken if he testified in municipal court that he never made Mrs. Kennedy any gifts other than postal cards and that he had returned to Mrs. Kennedy the $5 gold-piece which she had given him for a watch-chain. Regarding the loan of his ruby pin to Mrs. Kennedy on Jan. 1, 1909, a question was propounded and answered as follows:

Q. Atty. Fisher: "What is the discrepancy under that date which reflects your recollection as to the loan of that jewel?"

A. Witness (reading from the book): "Mrs. Kennedy has my stand—Wants to get Harry one like it."

The witness told where Mr. Frost was sitting in the Park hotel, Janesville, when Mrs. Kennedy is alleged to have made threats of getting married. He was unable to say when his aunt first told him that his rightful name was Elmer Ellisworth, or whether or not he was wearing the ruby pin when acquainted with Dr. Harrison at Quincy, Ill. "The 2nd of the nursery stock he said were not at the nursery before the original contract with Mrs. Kennedy. Witness did not remember having a notice inserted in the Janesville Record to the effect that his grandmother had died.

"Would Learn to Love Her"

In answer to certain other questions Ellisworth said that Mrs. Kennedy had asked him to get poison, the inference being that she was going to use it on Mr. Kennedy, and had suggested that she and Ellisworth skip for Europe or some other haven. Witness attributed to her this statement: "I've got lots of money and you'll learn to love me." He also alleged that she called Mr. Kennedy "an old stick." Witness declared that he rebuked her for offering such suggestions and told her that any plans of the kind were quite impossible. He also said that he rebuked her for giving him gifts, telling her that she mustn't do it any more; that it was not proper. Her son, George Stringer, he said, got no bathroom and two boxes of hose she had given him. He did not remember of ever returning any of these presents to Mrs. Kennedy. On the re-direct examination Ellisworth said that he gave up his residence in Quincy on July 11, 1896. He had not voted in Quincy for 12 years, nor elsewhere until he cast a ballot for District Attorney J. L. Fisher last fall. After leaving Quincy he made his headquarters in Council Bluffs, Ia. He left Quincy on account of trouble with his wife.

Kammerer Enters Denial

C. W. Kammerer was put on the stand by the defense this forenoon. He told about taking Ellisworth to the Kennedy farm on the occasion of the latter's first visit there, but denied that he introduced him as a personal friend or man of wealth. Witness was present when the $1,200 order was given.

Mrs. Reed Testifies.
Mrs. Margaret Reed, a neighbor of Mrs. Kennedy, testified that the complaining witness visited her home on Thursday, April 15, this year, and on that date said that she had nothing against Ellisworth; that he was a fine man and always treated her as a gentleman should. Witness also testified that in January or February, 1908, she had a talk with Mrs. Kennedy in which Ellisworth's ruby pin was mentioned. "We were talking about Christmas presents," said Mrs. Reed, "and Mrs. Kennedy was buying my gift as he was broke; that he had a hundred dollar ruby; that it had disappeared about Christmas time, and that she knew where it went to." Mrs. Reed's daughter, Mary Reed, corroborated the first conversation.

Hand-Writing Experts.
Sam Smith, of the Merchants & Mechanics' bank; A. E. Morgan, of the Bower City bank; and A. P. Duran, of the Rock County National bank took the witness stand with their magnifying glasses this afternoon to testify as expert witnesses for the defense. All declared that the characters of the capital initials "E. E. E." appearing on the envelope found with the ruby in the iron box, and the "E's" in the signatures admitted to be those of Ellisworth were not sufficient to establish the identity of the writer as the same in both instances. Mr. Duran, in both the words "jewel" written over a blundered word in Mrs. Kennedy's memorandum of the jewel transaction, was in heavier ink than the surrounding context, and that the oval hand word, subsequently scratched out, had begun with the letter "m" and ended in "n" or "u."

AUNT ABDUCTS HER NEPHEW AND NIECE

Bolton Woman Passes Through Janesville With the Children She Abducted.

(Special to this Gazette.)

Bolton, Wis., April 22.—William Thomas Norton, aged six, and his sister, Doris May Norton, aged nine, were spirited away from the home of their grandfather, Thomas Norton, Tuesday evening by their aunt, Miss Helen Griffith, whom it is thought, took them to Chicago by way of Janesville. It is believed that the aunt, with whom they were living, treated them with great severity, and their grandfather, learning of the fact, went to Janesville in order to secure the custody of the children. While he was absent and with the excuse that she wished to buy the children some clothes, Miss Griffith induced the boy and girl to go with her and took them to Janesville Tuesday night on the 10:30 train, and there waited until the early morning train for Chicago, which she is thought to have taken. It is the belief of the children's grandfather, that the aunt intends to take the children to some religious school or convent where she will keep them from their rightful guardian.

Professor Jonathan "Duffer" of the scientific department of Beloit college has been placed in charge of what has been called the "Claim census" of Rock river and its tributaries. This work, which is being done under the direction of the government, is part of the survey which is being made of the whole of the Mississippi river valley system, for the purpose of conserving and determining the natural resources of the country.

PLEASANT EVENING AT THE POST HALL

Ladies of W. R. C. Entertained Old Soldiers on Anniversary of Twenty-fourth Year.

On Tuesday evening was held the twenty-fourth anniversary of W. R. C. Post No. 21, which was observed by the ladies of the auxiliary and the members of the G. A. R. at their hall. An excellent program was given and after this light refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed by all. During the evening the president in behalf of the Corps presented Commander Cobb with an offering to be used in a general way in the Post. The program consisted of the following numbers:

Song—Mrs. Carman and Mrs. Whaley.

History of the W. R. C.—Mrs. Victoria Potter.

Musical—Mrs. Wilkins.

"The Relation between the Post and the Corps"—Phyllis Norcross.

"The Veteran's Dream," a poem read at the request of Mrs. Helen Wray, by Comrade Teichertman.

Music.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Anna Wendal.
Mrs. Anna Wendal, a niece of William H. Fisher of this city, died yesterday at the home of her father in Chicago. She leaves a father, one son, and one brother in Janesville last November. The remains will be brought to the city tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock over the Chicago & North Western road and taken directly to Oak Hill cemetery. Rev. Christy will officiate at the grave.

Willis Sidney Richards.
The funeral of Willis Sidney Richards, four months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richards, was held at the home of his parents, 308 Third St., at half past five o'clock yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. C. Hazen. The remains were laid to rest in Oak Hill cemetery.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Christening Convention: Rev. W. P. Christy, pastor of St. Peter's English Lutheran church, Miss Margaret Hakenson, Miss Little (Kueck), Will Pouchen and J. C. Jensen are attending the Eastern Conference of the Synod of the Northwest and the Sunday School convention at Madison for a few days.

Surprise Party: Sixteen of the friends of Miss Rosa Standel gave her a pleasant surprise yesterday afternoon at her home on South Franklin street. The event was in honor of her twelfth birthday. The afternoon was spent with games and music, tempting refreshments being served later.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

I AM apt to be rather scornful of scientific charity.

The generosity which judges its gifts with precautions and provisions seems to me too coldblooded to deserve the warm sweet name of charity at all.

I cannot help feeling that the charitable organizations which give orders for groceries and other necessities to the poor instead of money are needlessly cautious in many cases.

I expressed that feeling the other day to a group of philanthropic workers. They looked at me with gentle pity for my ignorance—especially the two oldest philanthropists.

"My dear," said the very elderly philanthropist, whose white hairs gave him the right to be thus paternally affectionate. "My dear, I visited a poor family last week—one of those terribly poor families with positively no visible means of support. I gave them two dollars and when I went back yesterday to take them some more I asked what they had done with the first. And what do you think? These people who were on the very verge of starvation had spent every cent of that money for a canary bird and cage. And they hadn't even the money to buy bird seed for the thing. What do you think of that?"

"I can beat that," said the middle-aged philanthropist. "Just the other day I started in giving a family of two dollars and half a week later I found it to the best advantage. They were intelligent people. When I went down this morning to carry the second installment I inquired what they had gotten with the first. And I found they had started to get a baby carriage on the installment plan and bought a bottle of pickled pigs' feet with the rest."

"You know the big flea they had out at the east end," said the last and youngest of the philanthropists, breaking in boyishly on the laugh that followed the pickled pigs' feet. "Well, some one gave me five dollars to take to one of the families that got burned out. They'd lost everything, you know, and needed so many things that I didn't know what to buy so I gave them the money."

"Well, I went down to see how they were getting on and maybe you won't believe it, but that family—there's eight of them, counting the baby and the old grandmother—had hired a hack and all piled into it and taken a ride. They said they never had enough riding before and never rode in a hack and they just rode five dollars' worth."

"I suppose you scolded them well?" I queried.

"I didn't," said the youngest philanthropist shamefacedly. "I got my sister to give them another ride in her carriage."

"I sometimes wonder," I ventured, "if it isn't possible to starve for other things besides food."

He threw a quick glance at the white-haired and middle-aged philanthropists who were solely absorbed in a note book.

"I do, too," he confessed.

Electrical discovery to revolutionize the whole system of generating light and power. Philip Young inventor and one of his wonderful electric lamps.

Grand Rapids, Mich.—Electricity generated in your own home or factory. Electricity at a nominal cost.

WILD WEST FEVER BRINGS DISASTER

Edward Homer Pays $10.00 and Gets a Bad Beating Before Trip Is Ever Started.

Edward Homer, who with George Cullen was arrested at Koshkonong recently on a complaint by R. V. Hurley, appeared in municipal court this morning and paid a fine of $25 and costs which amounted to $10.61. It appeared that Homer with three others started for the West but got into trouble at Koshkonong in connection with a bridal party, was knocked senseless and severely beaten by a brakeman of the St. Paul Road. A warrant for his arrest was sworn out by R. V. Hurley, and Homer, together with George Cullen who was arrested at the same time, appeared before Justice E. M. Holston of the town of Alton who fined him $25 and sentenced him to thirty days in jail. Cullen was also fined and given a sentence of thirty days for obscene and abusive language. Homer, however, thought his punishment was too severe, in view of the fact that he had received an unmerciful beating and had spent four days in jail, so secured bonds to the amount of $225 and appealed his case to the municipal court where the jail sentence was remitted and the fine allowed to stand.

THE W. C. T. U. TO MEET AT LIBRARY BUILDING DURING COMING YEAR

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 p. m. in the public library, there being twenty members present. It was voted to decide to meet for one year at the city library for the regular meetings. The membership contest closed with the result of a splendid increase in membership. The losing side in the contest will banquet the victors the third week in May at the Spanish war veterans' hall. A committee in charge will arrange a special program for this affair. An invitation was extended to County Superintendent Mrs. Vio H. Campbell of Evansville, to be present. The next meeting will be held the third Wednesday of each month.

Smoked, Whitefish, 12 1/2 lb.

Sardines in Oil 5c, 12 1/2c, 15c, 20c and 25c can.

Sardines in Mustard, 10c can. Fine Imported Sardines in oil, 10c, 3 for 25c.

Fresh Mackerel in tins, 20c. California Broiled Mackerel, 15c tin.

FRESH VEGETABLES—Lettuce, Long Radishes, Cucumbers, Round Radishes, Celery, Asparagus, Pie Plant, Green Onions, Spinach, Wax Beans, Fine Strawberries.

F. L. WILBUR & CO. PURE FOOD GROCERY. 105 W. Milwaukee St. Both phones 99.

Both phones 99.

within a short time. Mr. Young, the inventor, has worked continually on this one battery and lamp for more than three years and it was not until a few months ago that his ambition was realized by producing the electric current.

"Finished English Gentleman's" Needs
We want blackbills of dishonest house agents and out-of-date tailors, articles on where not to live and on railroads to avoid—in fact, all the inside information necessary to the equipment of a polished man of the world and finished English gentleman.—London Black and White.

Fascination of the Bazar.

Women like goods massed together, and they like to be tempted to buy. It is a form of dissipation in which almost all love to indulge, incomprehensible though it may be to men. That is why the bazar never loses its popularity.—Lady's Pictorial London.

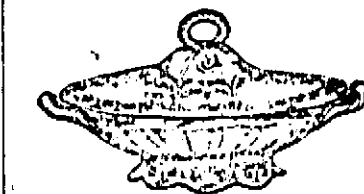

Aches and Pains

"No remedy that I have used has been so sure a cure for pain of every kind as Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They are a sovereign remedy for pain."

MRS. J. L. BRADEN, Rapids, Maine.

Pains are in the nerves—all feeling is; headache, toothache, neuralgia, sciatica, rheumatic pains, backache, etc.—They're all there, but in different parts—it's a nerve trouble.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills relieve the nerve irritation, and the pain subsides—that's all, no derangement of the stomach, no disagreeable after-effects. That's why they are so popular with those that use them. The first package will benefit; if not, your druggist will return your money.

DINNER SETS

Very fine, high-class ware at extremely low prices. Positively the best American ware made. Built on very graceful lines. Body of domestic non-enameled, very light weight and clear white. Pieces all full size and of beautiful shape and design. Artistically embossed, full gold traced and lined. Decorations in delicate shaded roses, holly and chrysanthemum with sprays of green leaves which make very dainty effects. Four of the prettiest patterns are sold upon stock.

It is a pleasure to show goods.

Mrs. E. HALL

Hall & Huebel, Proprietors.

A Man's Proposition

For $3.00 and $3.50

If you are in the habit of paying $3.00 or $3.50 for your shoes or oxfords and have become dissatisfied, call and let us show you something a little better for your money. We have an interesting MAN'S proposition at these prices.

KING, COWLES & FIFIELD

West Milwaukee St.

Fresh Fish For Friday

Smoked, Whitefish, 12 1/2 lb. Sardines in Oil 5c, 12 1/2c, 15c, 20c and 25c can.

Sardines in Mustard, 10c can. Fine Imported Sardines in oil, 10c, 3 for 25c.

Fresh Mackerel in tins, 20c. California Broiled Mackerel, 15c tin.

FRESH VEGETABLES—Lettuce, Long Radishes, Cucumbers, Round Radishes, Celery, Asparagus, Pie Plant, Green Onions, Spinach, Wax Beans, Fine Strawberries.

F. L. WILBUR & CO. PURE FOOD GROCERY. 105 W. Milwaukee St. Both phones 99.

Both phones 99.

AFTER SUPPER TONIGHT STROLL DOWN AND GET A

NABOB 5c Cigar All dealers

The enjoyment of this mild, satisfying Havana is worth the time

DIEHLS

Wall Paper

A home may be beautifully decorated for very little money if you know how. Two things are requisite: Knowledge of the best that is being produced in wall paper effects and skill in applying them to your own best advantage. Some of the most exquisite designs and color effects introduced this season are very inexpensive and are much more appropriate for the average home than more elaborate papers.

The artistic wall decorations gathered together in this store from both Oriental and European sources cannot help but inspire good taste and enable the purchaser to know at first hand what is most attractive for his or her purpose. We are trained in the art of house decoration and can suggest effective color schemes, etc., if desired.

Prices are no higher than elsewhere.

DIEHLS

THE ART STORE

Corner Milwaukee and River Streets.

SOUVENIR

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY April 23 and 24

Oatmeal Dish, Cup and Saucer Or Plate

25 lbs. Best Cane Sugar $1.30

In Addition to usual checks with Spices, Extracts, Chocolate, Cocoa, Tapioca, Cornstarch, Tea, Coffee, Etc.

18 So. Main St. Old Phone, 2782 New Phone, 1036

PRICE LIST ON ICE

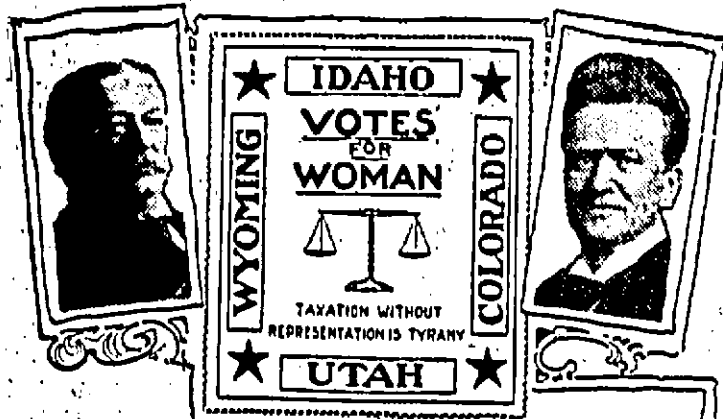

SEASON OF 1909

CITY ICE CO

PRIVATE FAMILIES 25 lbs. a day, washed and put in box, $2.00 per mo. 40 lbs. a day, washed and put in box, $2.50 per mo. (Ice carried up stairs extra.) (Water and box must be ready.)

Ice by the hundred 20c per hundred. Ice in ton lots or over $2.50 per ton.

OFFICE AT PEOPLE'S DRUG CO.

FOUR IDOLS OF AMERICAN SUFFRAGETTES.

The new American suffragette stamp, together with the three public servants who were presented with the first, three-stamp issue, President Taft at left, Senator La Follette at right and Justice Brewer below.

Washington, D. C.—The suffragettes have invaded the White house. They have invaded the senate of the United States. They have invaded the supreme court. In other words, they have done what English suffragettes couldn't do to save their souls.

Mrs. Harold Dudley Greeley and Mrs. Rheta Childs Dorr, president and vice president respectively of the Co-operative Equal Suffrage league, were the ones who turned the trick.

Mrs. Greeley and Mrs. Dorr have designed a suffrage stamp which the Co-operative Equal Suffrage league proposes to sell throughout the Union as a means of raising funds for the equal suffrage cause. The stamp is printed in blue. In the center are the historic scales of justice in equilibrium and at the top is the fighting slogan, "Votes for Women." Below is the quotation which the suffragettes call the historic principle of democracy, "Taxation without representation is tyranny." The border is formed of the names of Idaho, Wyoming, Utah, and Colorado, the four states which have conferred full suffrage upon women. Each corner bears a five-pointed star.

Armed with the first suffragette stamp ever offered for sale in America, the ladies invaded the sanctum of the president. President Taft immediately said he would be glad to buy, and asked the price.

"Oh," said Mrs. Greeley, "they're a penny apiece, but we wouldn't have you pay for this for the world. We want to give you this. It's the first one that has gone out of our hands."

"Your stamp is intended to make money for woman suffrage," replied the president, smiling, "and it would be a bad beginning to give the first one away." And he dived down into his pocket, brought forth a new penny and gave it to Mrs. Greeley.

The ladies then requested that the president use the stamp on the first letter he sent to Roosevelt in Africa, but his promise was eventually to use it on his next letter to Mrs. Taft.

The second stamp was presented to Senator La Follette and the third to Justice Brewer of the supreme court. With this auspicious inauguration the ladies will now put their suffrage stamps on sale in every state in the Union.

MID-SPRING SUITS

We want to show you exactly why a Ford suit contains a fashionable smartness where other suits look commonplace.

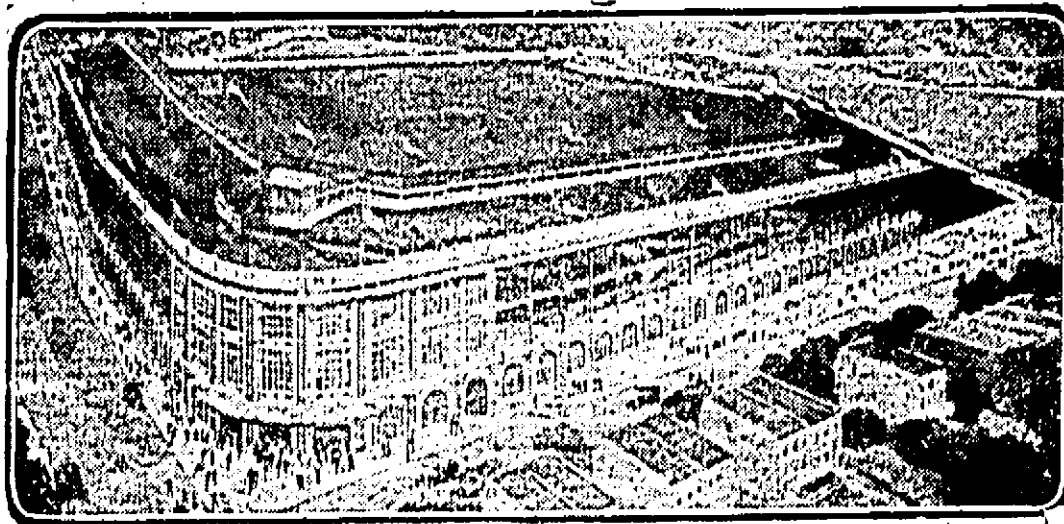

We can't do it unless you call and ask.

We will show you the light suits for Spring and Summer wear, finished elegantly, designed along fresh, novel lines and representing all that is new, fashionable and approved of in eastern style-centers.

You will be surprised and pleased with the line of Spring suits, but more so with the prices, which are your prices.

N. B.—Special new showing of hats and neckwear Saturday.

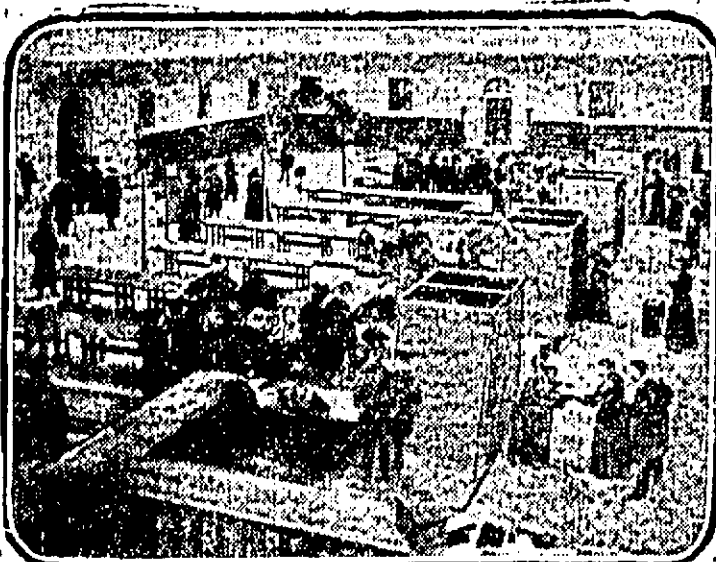

--FORD--
The House Good Clothes Built.

NEW MILLION DOLLAR HOME OF THE PITTSBURGH PIRATES.
(Photo Copyrighted, 1909, Pittsburgh Athletic Company.)

Pittsburgh, Pa.—A joyous day is in it. The grand stand of reinforced concrete for the Pittsburgh fans when the Pirates open up their new million dollar home in the residence part of this city. This will be one of the finest and best, including lead to entrances, baseball domes ever constructed, and exits, doing away with stairways, though several are in prospect at the building boxes there will be more present time which will closely rival than 7,000 reserved seats in the upper tiers.

On the main floors will be accommodations for 13,000 persons. The main bleachers will accommodate 8,000 and the center field stand 2,000 more, making a total accommodation for 23,000 people.

Women Voting For The First Time At The Election in Denmark.

Copenhagen.—A few days ago Danish women for the first time voted at the election for Copenhagen municipal council. They chose seven of their number to represent them, one a surgeon, one a matron of a home for women and babies, and one a Socialistic type.

MRS. JOSEPH BYRNS, WIFE OF CONGRESSMAN BYRNS OF TENNESSEE. MRS. BYRNS HAS BEEN ENTERTAINING EXTENSIVELY AT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL THIS SEASON.

Knocking Hubby.
"My husband thinks he is very economical," said the blue-eyed woman. "He saves everything. One drawer of his desk is devoted to time tables, and he has some that are three years old."

Defect in Chinese Voice.
The Chinese voice lacks two notes—its scale has six notes instead of eight. The fourth and seventh notes are the missing ones.

Coal Dust Put to Good Use.
Only 50 years ago the dust of coal was considered to be entirely useless, but since then a great change has taken place, and at present in Rhineland Westphalia the Ruhr coal district alone produces 3,000,000 tons of briquets each year. Up to the present time coal tar pitch has been used for making coal briquets and its production in the past ten years has increased about 100 per cent.

DISSOLUTION SALE

OF

PIANOS AND ORGANS

Those interested in purchasing a piano or an organ will do well to investigate the instruments we are closing out regardless of cost. Our object is to sell. Come and see the prices. This Sale will save you money on a piano.

FLECK'S

Couch Sale

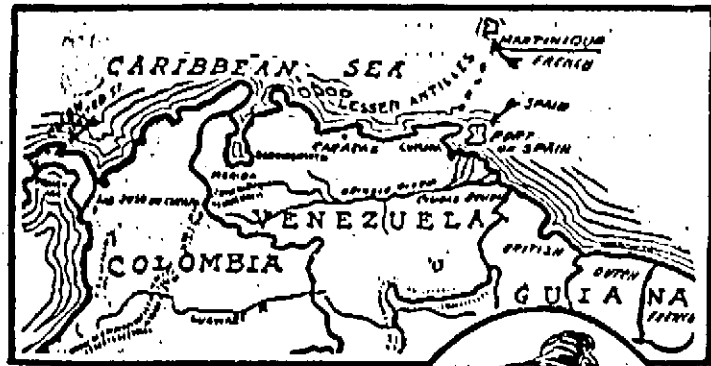

—at—

PUTNAM'S SOON

Wait for the half price sale. A big purchase to arrive within a day or two.

A NEW PICTURE OF PETER C. HAINS AS HE LOOKS TODAY AND HIS WIFE, CLAUDIA HAINS, WHO WILL APPEAR ON THE STAND AGAINST HER HUSBAND.

Fear Castro's wife is a revolutionist. Senora Castro, ex-president Castro and a map of Venezuela showing the forts where the ex-president and his wife are not allowed to land.

Port of Spain, Trinidad—Mrs. Castro as well as the ex-president of Venezuela are to be without a country if the plan of the powers, and especially the United States, can bring this about. This is largely due to the request, which has come out from the state department of the United States to the other powers requesting them not to allow the ex-president and his wife to land on their territory.

Holland has closed the door of Willemstad. France has ordered Castro to leave Port of France, Martinique. The British foreign office will not let him land at Port of Spain, while the United States forbids his presence at Colon.

By hating him from pillar to post, it is the purpose of the powers to drive the dictator back to Europe, where he must remain a man without a country.

It is now thought that Senora Castro is actively interesting herself with the revolutionists to bring about the down fall of the present government and re-instate Castro as president. The reason for the active work on the part of the United States is with Castro back at the helm it is feared that strife and continual revolt will again be the order in Venezuela. The powers government.

ONE MAN JUST CLOSED A

$1900

Real Estate transaction through a 25c want ad.

For real estate transactions of all kinds, there is no better advertising medium than the

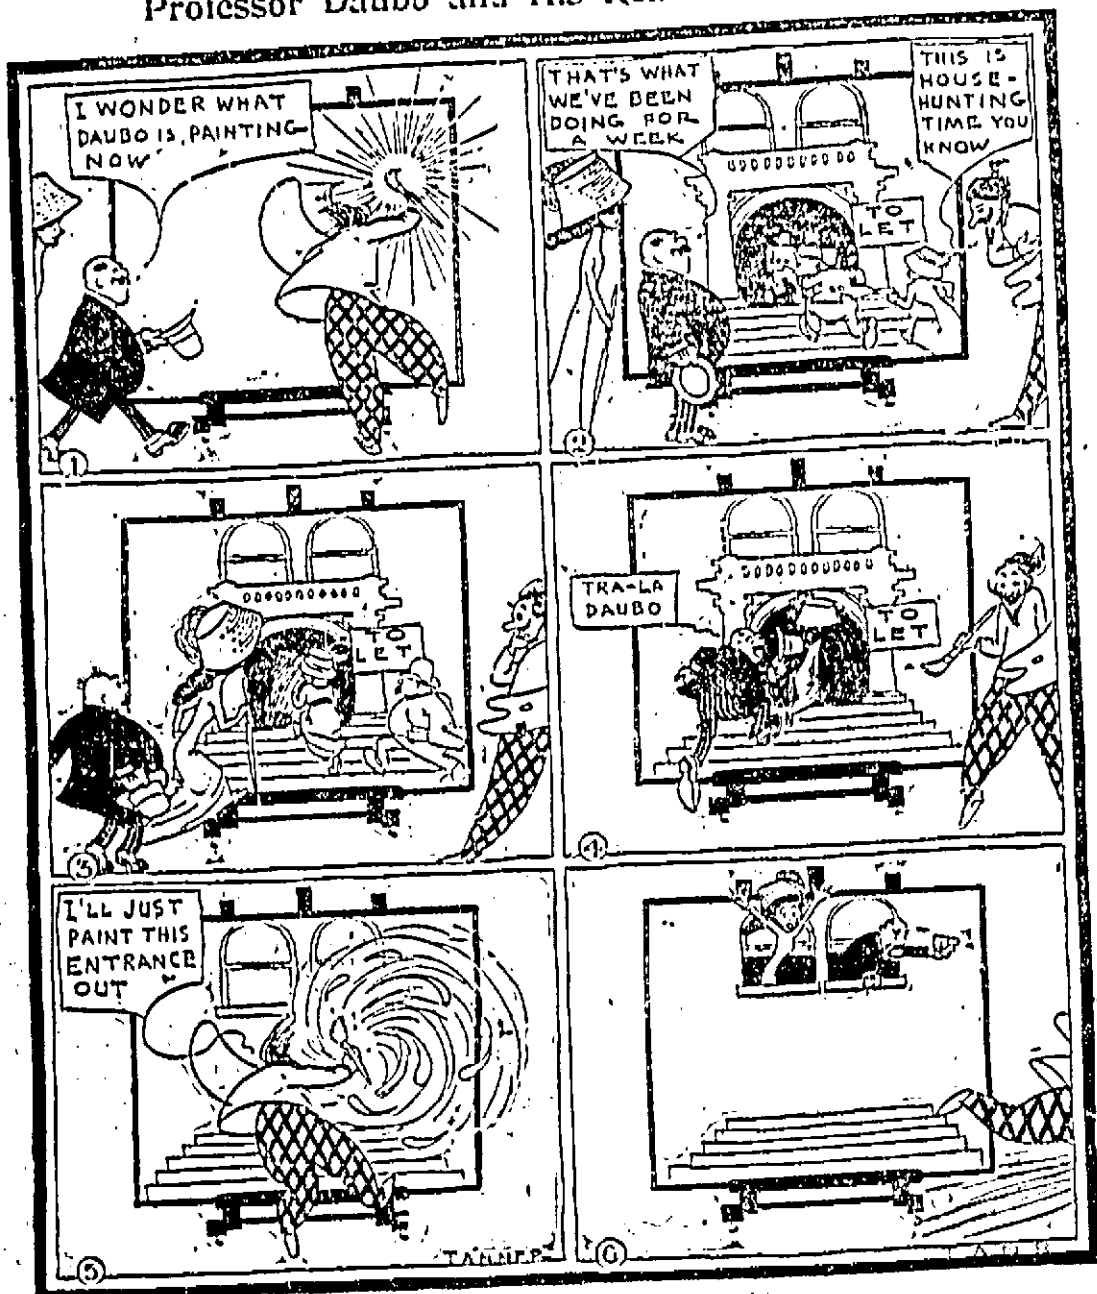

GAZETTE WANT ADS

The reason is plain. Real estate buyers are watching these little ads every day for chances to buy. They consider the want ads the real estate news of the day.

Are you giving the news to them about your property? It only costs 25c for three lines 3 times, 50c for 6 times, and $1.75 for 3 lines a whole month.

RIPPLES OF MIRTH

Professor Daubo and His Realistic Painting.

Moving Days.

JACK AND JILL SPOON ALL NIGHT LONG—
JILL'S PAPA LETS IT PASS;
BECAUSE AT NIGHT THEY SEE ALRIGHT,
AND DO NOT BURN THE GAS.

FOOLISH, FOOLISH, QUESTIONS

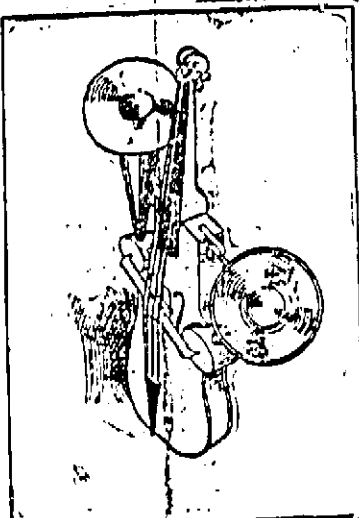

FOOLISH QUESTIONS—NO. 1400

VIOLIN WITH HORNS

Horns Pick Up Subdued Tones of Violin and Increase Them.

Obviously the numerous musical instruments now in use are not sufficient, judging by the many attempts made by ambitious inventors to devise something new. One of the latest is shown in the illustration below, the invention of a Prague (Czech) man. The curious instrument is a combination of violin and horns. The horns are not unlike those of a photograph. Sound horns are connected to the strings of the instrument, and it is from these that the two horns lead. One of the horns lies straight along the border of the instrument, while the other is bent outwardly. Naturally, these horns greatly emphasize the work of the violinist, the instrument being especially useful for concert work.

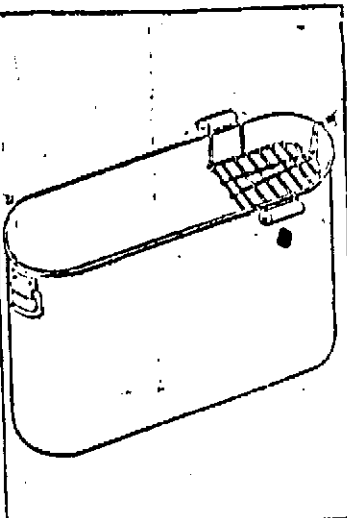

PHOTOGRAPHIC VIOLIN.

FOR DRAINING CLOTHES

Wire Shelf Is Attached to One End of Wash tub.

The large and industrious army of washerwomen will find great satisfaction in the use of the clothes drainer that has been invented by an Illinois woman. It not only enables them to do their work in more shipshape fashion, but by draining the clothes well before they are hung on the line it saves much time in the drying. This drainer consists of a U-shaped wire frame, made to fit in one end of a wash tub. At one end of the frame is a hook, to catch over the end of the tub, and at the sides are supports

CLOTHES DRAINER WHEN HUNG, supporting arms, terminating in wooden handles. As the clothes are pulled they are laid on the frame and the water allowed to drip out. In the old days they were wrung more or less dry and thrown in a wicker basket or a bucket by the side of the tub. Now they are drained by the drainer before they are passed through the wringer and go to the line in much better condition.

French Proverb.

A fast given too far brings home hate.

We will not mince words here.

Calumet Baking Powder

must give you satisfaction. It must prove that it is the equal in every way—and superior in some—to all other baking powders, or you must have your money back. You cannot set your standard of quality too high to suit us.

Insist on Calumet and don't let your grocer give you a substitute.

Received Highest Award World's Pure Food Exposition Chicago, '07.

Plain-Spoken Women.

It would be of advantage to us if we could dispense with all that verbiage, that frothy flood of polite utterances which are only too often used, and substitute a little plain speaking in their place.—The Gentlewoman.

ROOSEVELT LANDS IN AFRICA.

Completes Ocean Trip and Is Ready to Hunt Big Game.

Mombasa, British East Africa, Apr. 22.—Former President Roosevelt, who arrived here last night on the steamer Admiral, spent today seeing the sights of Mombasa and nearby places and preparing for his hunt in the jungles. His baggage and hunting equipment have been brought ashore and is ready for transportation to the hunting grounds.

It was raining hard when the former chief executive of the United States landed, but he paid no attention to the downpour and came ashore in happy mood. He declared he was glad to set foot on land again in any kind of weather. He was the guest of the acting governor at dinner.

All members of the party are well and are eager to get to the jungles and strike the trail of the lions and elephants which for some time have been eating natives for breakfast, dinner and supper. King Edward has given orders that everything possible for Col. Roosevelt's comfort must be done by his subjects.

B. & O. Directors Meet.

Now York, Apr. 22.—The directors of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company met today. It is believed some definite announcement regarding the proposed acquisition of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railway by the Baltimore & Ohio is likely to be made.

A Skin of Beauty Is a Joy Forever

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

Danderine

GROWS HAIR

and we can

PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes:
"As a result of using Danderine, my hair is close to two feet in length."

Beautiful Hair at Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and treated. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention it needs to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should. Danderine's Danderine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair roots or liquids of the scalp. It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities. One 25-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes.
25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

FREE To show how quickly Danderine acts, we will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends this free coupon to the KNOX DANDERINE CO., CHICAGO, ILL., with their name and address and 10c in silver or stamps to pay postage.

FOR SALE AND GUARANTEED BY PEOPLE'S DRUG STORE.

SPECIAL OFFER FOR THIRTY DAYS

WILL SELL ONE THOUSAND PROPERTY OWNERS IN COUNTRY OR CITY IN ROCK COUNTY, WISCONSIN.

Since this offer was first made 822 property owners have purchased.

THE ABOVE CUT SHOWS ELM TREES, FOR SALE AT $1.00 EACH.

I wish to state emphatically that when you buy nursery stock of me you do not have to pay for the goods until the second year. There are no obligations, in the way of money, or note, just the buyer's word given in regard to the agreement below.

This gives you all this summer's growth and you can see how they come through the winter, and after they start to grow the following spring you can pay for the goods if they are entirely as represented.

I can show you thousands of dollars worth of stock that is growing that was planted last spring and summer, and anyone who is at all skeptical as to the quality of stock I furnish will be taken around and shown the stock. I will show cherry and plum trees that were planted a year ago last fall that had specimen fruits last summer, likewise grapes and raspberries.

All roses, climbing, H. P. and rose trees that I furnish are of the most hardy varieties. All roses I set out last spring bloomed very freely last season.

THE SPECIAL OFFER

Any first class, two year old fruit trees, berry bushes, grape vines, ornamental shade trees; or shrubbery at the following bargain prices:

Apples, at	35c each	Grape Vines	10c to 25c each
Plums, at	50c each	Raspberries	20c to 50c each
Cherries, at	50c each	Blackberries	20c to 50c each
Pears, at	50c each	Gooseberries	10c to 25c each
Ornamental Shade Trees, from 50c to $1.50 each.		Currents	10c to 25c each
		Rose Bushes from	20c to 50c each

ALL FRUIT TREES ARE BUDDED AND ARE WHOLE ROOTED STOCK.

THIS OFFER IS MADE ON THE FOLLOWING CONDITIONS:
No order or contract required, or note or other obligation to be given, other than the promise of buyer that the said trees, etc., will be properly planted and cultivated, according to instructions (book furnished each buyer) and the further promise that on the first day of May, 1910, such buyer will pay to the undersigned, for such trees, etc., as may be living and in good condition at that time, according to the schedule of prices above.

All stock to be northern grown and guaranteed to be true to name.

Reliable reference given on request.

This is my third year in business at Janesville, Wisconsin. Can furnish any variety of tree, bush or shrub that will grow in Rock County.

Undersigned also requests that customers having previously purchased stock, examine same and make application for stock for replacing at once.

Address all communications to

E. ELLSWORTH

NURSERY DEALER.

Office with Kommerer & Co., N. Bluff St.
JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN. Rock Co. phone 326.

P. O. BOX NO. 114.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

DR. ANNA APPLEBY,
OSTEOPATH.

Office hours from 8 a. m. until 12 and 1 to 4 p. m.
Office: New phone 408 Black; Residence: New phone 364

Stanley G. Dunwiddie
ATTORNEY AT LAW.

Lovejoy Block. New phone 228.

W. H. BLAIR
Architect

Room No. 5, Phoenix Bldg., Janesville, Wis. Associated with H. G. Maddalio, Architect, Oak Park, Ill. Would be pleased to show you work which we now have out.

Thos. E. Nolan. H. W. Adams.
C. W. Reeder.

NOLAN, ADAMS & REEDER
ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

511-513 Jackson Bldg., Janesville, Wis.
505-508 Goodwin Building, Beloit, Wis.

KEMP & MANARD
ARCHITECTS

F. H. KEMP, Beloit, Wis., Unity Building, phone 00.
ROBT. P. MANARD, Rockford, Ill., Rockford Trust Bldg., Bell 'phone.

HAVE A PLACE

to keep your rings, rubbers, metals, etc., and when you have quite a bit telephone to

ROSTEIN BROS.

64 S. River St.

RALPH H. BENNETT
PIANO TUNING.

924 Park Ave., Beloit, Wis.
Piano Player and Pipe Organ work a specialty.
Leave orders at J. P. Baker's Drug Store.

M. P. RICHARDSON
ATTORNEY AT LAW

Now phone—Office, 381; residence phone, 490.
Special department for local collections
OFFICE 321 HAYES BLOCK.
Janesville, Wis.

CORYDON G. DWIGHT, M. D.

207 Jackson Block
Practice limited to
EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT
CLASSES FITTED
Consultation from 9 to 12 and 2 to 5, and by appointment.
New phone 890 red. Old phone 2762.

E. H. PETERSON
ATTORNEY AT LAW

Janesville, Wisconsin.
Sutherland Block.
New phone Black 640.

H. E. LARSEN
EXPERT MACHINIST.

Engine overhauling. Special attention given to perfecting inventions.
17 No. Bluff St.

HILTON & SADLER
ARCHITECTS.

CAREFUL ATTENTION TO EVERY DETAIL.
Office on the Bridge, Janesville.

LADIES' AND GENTS' shoes polished or polished, 5c; Saturdays, Sundays and holidays 10c. Best service in the city.
CHRIST ZANIAS
Cor. Franklin & Milwaukee Sts.

You Are Paying the Price

Of Electric light no matter what light you are using. Don't deceive yourself by thinking that because a light is inferior it is cheaper, it is not. We furnish the best light for stores, residences, or factories at prices that make anything else unworthy of consideration.

JANESVILLE
ELECTRIC CO.ARE TO ORGANIZE
THE NEW COUNCIL;
SPECIAL MEETING

Mayor Carlo Will Preside at His First Council Meeting This Evening.

At the special session of the common council called by Mayor William F. Carlo for this evening, the new council will be formally organized and the aldermen will take their seats for the first time in the council of 1909 and 1910.

The first session of the council is always an important one and the making of the standing committees for the year and the committee is always waiting for with interest. And from this the city engineer, the city health officer, the street commissioner and auditor for the city hall are to be chosen.

It is expected that Mayor Carlo will make an inaugural address in which he will outline his policy for the coming two years. Informally he has struck the popular slogan, "Obey the law" and it is thought his address will be along this line, making it perfectly clear what the policy of the administration will be relative to many important questions.

The appointment of the chairmanship of the various standing committees will also be made and this is an important matter which will be watched with interest. There are six republican and four democratic aldermen in the council but it is not thought that party lines will be closely drawn.

It is also expected that the Mayor will name a successor to John F. Sweeney as member of the fire and police commission. Now that the supreme court has decided that this commission has the handling of police matters the name of the appointee will be watched for with interest. The law prescribes that there must be two democrats on the board and this means that Mr. Sweeney's successor will be from that party. The name of a former democratic alderman is mentioned for the place most prominently.

The council also will elect a city health officer. For this office five physicians have been mentioned—Dr. Waudell, present officer, Dr. F. H. Farnsworth, Dr. Mann and Dr. Walter D. Morrill, former city health officer. The name of Dr. Buckmaster has also been mentioned in this connection by several who are on the inside. The selection promises to be a most interesting contest.

For street commissioner James Sennett will seek reelection, former commissioner "Al" Watson is also a candidate and George Croft is also said to have friends in the council who would like to see him given the place. The contest promises to be most bitterly contested and thus far no one of the candidates has any apparent advantage.

The two other elective offices to be filled by the council are city engineer and auditor of the city hall. It is not expected that there will be any change in the office of city engineer although there was a movement started to elect a successor to Mr. Kerech. It has not as yet been taken definite form. Mr. W. Scott will be the only new alderman to take his seat tonight, both Charles Evans and George Kimball having been sworn into office in the old council, having been elected to fill vacancies. The other aldermen are all serving again—Mr. Clark in the First ward, Mr. Brown in the Third, Mr. Rohlfed in the Fourth and Mr. Dulin in the Fifth.

The meeting this evening will also be the first that the new city clerk, Roy Cammisa, has presided over, although he has been in charge of the office he was elected to fill since Tuesday morning will also elect a president of the council who will preside in the absence of the Mayor. J. J. Dulin is the present President but it is reported that this honor will be contested for by Alderman Buckholz who is serving his second term in the council.

CHILDREN'S NIGHT AT MASONIC HALL

Ladies of O. E. S. Gave a Very Fine Entertainment For Youngsters Last Night.

Last evening at Masonic Temple the ladies of the O. E. S. gave a most enjoyable program. It being children's night. Owing to the weather and sickness many of the children were unable to be there but a very pleasant time was enjoyed by all who attended. After the program a march was formed to the banquet hall where dainty refreshments of ice cream, wafers, cake and confectionery were served and the youngsters were entertained with games. The following was the program of the evening:

Recitation—Margaret Spoon.
Violin Solo—Master Garnett McVicar, accompanied in piano by Mrs. Len Wilcox.
Song—Miss Helen Wilcox.
Song—Miss Sarah Alice Garbut.
Violin and Piano—Misses Thorne.
Song—Mrs. Gertrude Wambler.
Violin and Piano—Miss Turner and Miss Hattie Turner.

MISS EMMA TETZLAFF AND HENRY KRONITZ MARRIED

Wedding Took Place Yesterday Afternoon at Home of Bride's Parents on Western Avenue.

At five o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's father, Julius Tetzlaff, 289 Western avenue, Miss Emma Tetzlaff was united in marriage to Henry Kronitz. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. J. Koerner, Miss Hattie Reischow acting as bridesmaid and Julius Tetzlaff, Jr., as best man. After the wedding the happy couple left on a wedding trip to St. Paul, Minneapolis, and Milwaukee. On their return they will reside at 508 Prospect avenue. The bride is one of the popular young ladies of the city and the groom is a member of the well-known firm of Kronitz Bros. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Reischow, Waterdown; Mrs. O. Block, Fond du Lac; and Mr. and Mrs. Juse, Watertown.

TEN INSANE PATIENTS WERE TAKEN FROM COUNTY ASYLUM

Left On the Northwestern Road This Noon To Be Transferred To the Iowa County Asylum.
Ten insane patients who belong in La Fayette county were this morning taken to Madison on the 11:45 train and will there be transferred to a train which will take them to the Iowa county asylum. They are all patients which belong to La Fayette county and have been kept in the asylum here for some time past. Their transfer is made necessary by lack of room at the asylum here. Miss Merrifield and Mr. Troup and Superintendent Burrows will accompany them to their destination.

ENTERTAINMENTS FOR NEXT YEAR PLANNED

Committee of Monroe Citizens' Course Has Arranged For Six-Number Course.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Monroe, Wis., April 21.—The committee of the Citizens' Course announces the selection of a six-number course for next winter. The contract was made with the Central Lyceum bureau for what is known as the 1925 course. The numbers are as follows: Victor Hallam band, Mrs. Bertha Kunz-Baker, dramatic reader; Dr. Kovon's music quartet and Anna Smith, reader and soprano; Hon. Geo. D. Alden, lecturer; Grand Central Ice company, eight pieces; Opie Reed, humorist.

The Married Folks' Dancing club will close the winter series of parties with a supper and dance at the armory Thursday evening when a supper will be served from 6:30 to 7:30 followed by dancing from 8 to 12 o'clock. Music by Best & Booth's orchestra. All former members of the club are invited. D. H. Higgins, formerly of Janesville, is a member of the arrangement committee.

"The Toastmaster," the play presented here by the High School Athletic association, will be taken to Monticello Friday evening.
Miss Marie Monahan, aged 21 years, daughter of Mrs. Michael Monahan, of Whitewater, was killed by a street car at Amosville, Texas, while out horseback riding. The body was brought here by her sisters, Misses Sadie and Barbara Monahan, who were with her when the accident occurred. The funeral was held yesterday from St. Victor's church.

Mrs. Chas. Divan, aged 71, died at her home at Oconomowoc. The body was brought here today for burial. She was a sister of Jacob Hammon, of this city.

W. A. Dreihelms will build a new residence on East Market street on a lot recently purchased there by him.

Miss Lucy Bridge is home from a visit to friends at Champaign, Ill.

Dr. H. D. Murdoch was in the city yesterday from Brookfield.

T. B. Wells and son, Gary Wells, left last evening for Texas.

George Kidd was in the city yesterday from South Wayne.

Mrs. Margaret Tomlinson, of Chicago, is here on a visit to her brother, Peter Hurko.

FOR YOUR HEALTH'S SAKE

MAKE A KICK.

People may not like a kicker, but it often happens that the intelligent, persistent kicker is a public benefactor.

The theater patron or church attendant who kicks about the lack of good, fresh air and demands better ventilation may be prompted by purely selfish motives, but, all the same, if, as a result of his complaints, the theater provides better ventilation, many hundreds of other people are directly benefited.

Patrons of theaters, churches and street cars should insist on protection from the terrible effects of being compelled to breathe bad air; and persistent, forceful kicking is a pretty good way to get this protection.

CAR OF BEET SEEDS
GOES TO MILWAUKEE

Blodgett Milling Company Make a $70,200 Shipment To Cream City Concern.

What is probably the most valuable car load of freight matter that has ever been shipped out of Janesville left the city this morning for Milwaukee from the Blodgett Milling Co. The car is loaded with sugar beet seeds and is consigned to a Milwaukee seed house. It is valued at $70,200, and contains twenty-four tons of seeds which were purchased for the Milwaukee concern by the Blodgett Milling Company from the Rock County Sugar Co.

MRS. LETCHER SECURES
DIVORCE FROM HER HUSBAND

Separation Granted By Circuit. She Is Allowed To Resume Her Maiden Name.

Yesterday afternoon in circuit court Florence L. Letcher was granted a divorce from Carlos Letcher, her suit being granted on the grounds of habitual drunkenness and failure to support her. Attorney Thomas S. Nolan appeared for the plaintiff. Letcher is the man who last June made such a sensational unsuccessful attempt to end his life in the court house. He fired four shots from a revolver at his head only one of them took effect causing a wound in his chest. Since then efforts have been made to reform the man but they seem to have been quite useless and Mrs. Letcher decided to secure a divorce. The court allowed her to resume her maiden name.

The best
Eye-opener—

A steaming cup of delicious

POSTUM

It removes coffee aches and all.

"There's a Reason"

TALKS OF RIVER IN INTERESTING MANNER

Lyman E. Cooley Gave Address on Rock River and Its Possibilities.

Lyman E. Cooley who is authority on many relatives to the river navigation and the proposed making of the Rock river a navigable stream has given several very interesting talks on the river. In a recent address he gave the following statement regarding what lies before our doors and the neglected opportunities that wait merely development to be a powerful influence. Mr. Cooley's address was on waterways but he showed their need and what could be done with their aid as regards Rock river.

"When I began to study the waterway question over thirty years ago," said the speaker, "I was struck with the fact that 78 per cent of the population of our large cities was along waterways habitually navigated; 11 per cent of the city population on waterways which had been declared navigable, and only 11 per cent located inland. This will give some idea of the importance of the subject of waterways and what they mean to us."

"Our railways sacrifice the short haul because their advantage lies almost entirely in the long haul. The result is to gather too large a proportion of our municipal population at the seashore. It is not necessary to state that it is not wise to separate so widely our centers of production. It is an important problem to bring these centers nearer together in an economic sense, and while we cannot bring our inland cities to the seashore, we can bring the sea, practically speaking, to our inland cities, by means of waterways; that is our problem and our task."

"The aggregate movement of our coasting and lake traffic is 75 per cent of that of all the railroads in the country. Our commerce with foreign countries amounts to about one and one-half times the volume of our railway traffic, and the combined traffic of our foreign commerce and inland waterways is about two and one-fourth as great as that of our railways."

"Much money has been and is being spent in improving our harbors which serve as railway terminals and very little has been or is being spent in improving inland waterways."

James L. Hill said in 1902 that the deep waterway from St. Louis to the Gulf would be worth more to the country than the Panama canal. Within the past few years Mr. Hill has said that the railway system of the United States are inadequate; that we need 120,000 additional miles of railroad at once, but that where the money was to come from to build it he did not know. The construction of this amount of new railroad would raise the railroad investment in this country to over twenty billion dollars.

"The railroads cannot meet this emergency; the capital required would be beyond human computation. The only solution of the problem lies in the proper development of our waterways. It is a fact known to navigators that after you reach a certain point in railway construction further extension and development increases in cost to such an extent as to become prohibitive. This condition is similar to that which we all know exists in the telephone field.

"Sixty-four per cent of the freight carried by the railroads is worth at the point of production less than $5 per ton and the transportation charges on this class of freight are greater than the cost of production. So it is that our far-sighted railroad men are advocating the development of waterways which will relieve them of the burden of carrying this cheap class of freight and enable them to give their energies to the handling of freight that will bear a higher traffic charge."

"The countries of Europe are far ahead of us in the matter of waterways; if we of the United States had developed our waterways as we should, the transportation problem in all its complicated and varied aspects would have been solved."

"All the waters of the interior of this continent gravitate toward Illinois, and in the state we have every natural advantage we need but to use the splendid facilities which nature has placed at our disposal."

"In 1887, while I was a member of the international commission, and we established the fact that a proper waterway system would reduce the cost of shipping ore and other products to the coast enroute to foreign countries to such a point that the United States could successfully compete with other exporters."

"Just at present the subject of the Lakes to the Gulf waterway is a tender subject in Illinois, and as it is the subject of a controversy which is not yet needed I will not dwell upon it in detail."

"If the United States were to develop an adequate system of waterways, based on the systems of France and Germany, which are very complete and adequate, we would need 200,000 miles of railroads, and toward such an end at this time we must devote our energies, in carrying out this great undertaking we must remember that we cannot do it all at once, but it must be conducted so that each generation can take it up and carry it forward from the point where it is left by the preceding generation. In other words, we should never take our eye from the ultimate purpose to develop a great and complete system of waterways."

"With reference to Rock river, this stream has about 1,100 square miles of tributary territory. Such a river in any of the European countries would be a river of magnitude and great importance, and the time will come when it will be here, it has not been, is not being properly developed. Your congressmen have not been enterprising with regard to the possibilities and needs of this river. It is in very good shape for development, the natural conditions are all favorable. Suppose it were systematically developed both for waterway and water power purposes—an eventuality all rivers will be. It is admirably adapted for both purposes, and when the possibilities have been recognized and advantage taken of them it will mean much to all of us."

George Schaller has departed for Spokane, Wash., where he intends to remain for a year, possibly to reside there permanently. His wife will join him later.

ANNUAL CONTEST IN EVANSVILLE FRIDAY

High Schools of Janesville, Beloit, Whitewater and Evansville Compete There.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Evansville, April 21.—The annual oratorical and declamatory league contest will be held in May's opera-house Friday evening, April 23. The league is composed of the high schools of Janesville, Beloit, Whitewater and Evansville and there are two contestants from each place. The young men of the different schools will confine themselves entirely to orations and the young ladies will be entered in a declamatory contest. The event is being looked forward to with much interest. The program is as follows: Music—Two Selections; Bridges orchestra; Orator—"Washington's Address to Congress"—May Webb, Evansville; Declamation—"The Man in the Shadows"—Grace Griswold, Whitewater; Orator—"Address Before Chicago Convention"—Vernon Arvold, Whitewater; Declamation—"Terrolo of Oldham"—Lora North, Evansville; Music—Orchestra; Declamation—"An Epilogue from the French Revolution"—Florence Weber, Janesville; Declamation—"The Death Ditch"—John Fairchild, Beloit; Orator—"Toussaint L'Ouverture"—Gregory Burns, Beloit; Orator—"The Fall of Aaron Burr"—George Yahn, Janesville; Music—"Two Selections"—Bergs' Orchestra; Declaration of Judges; Music—Orchestra.

How Fine It Would Be.

How splendidly everything would be done if every man could do his work as well as other people think they could do it.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science proved catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by J. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular. Address J. C. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A Few Words to Horse Owners

Practical shoeing is not only a benefit to the horse and horse owner, but is also a credit to the shoer. It is a most wonderful piece of skilled work to see a practical shoer go to the anvil and make a horse shoe out of a straight bar of iron or steel, fit it to the hoof and nail it on properly. That that is not all. A most wonderful part in shoeing a horse is to trim and level the hoof. There are a great many horses used for different purposes. A draft horse's hoof must be trimmed for draft work. A gentleman's driving horse's hoof must be trimmed so that it will travel right and give comfort in riding. A track horse's hoof must be trimmed for the track to develop speed. It takes long years of study, practice and experience to do this kind of work. As I have had all this I can assure you that it will be done right. I also have an expert man for putting on rubber tires. I use the best tires only, and am free from retained rubber and are made out of pure caulk. Come in and give us a trial. I can assure you the best of satisfaction.

Parlor Shoeing Shop
WM. F. KUHLOW
No. 112 First St.

UNDERFEED BOILERS.

The Underfeed Boiler is superior to all other types of steam and hot water boilers, because it makes possible a reduction of 1/2 to 2/3 of the coal bills to heat any given space.

It burns the cheapest grades of coal successfully. It saves the waste heat that escapes out of the smoke due in ordinary boilers. Requires far less attention to firing than ordinary boilers. Ashes, clinkers, smoke and soot practically eliminated. Effects a saving in money, time and labor.

Claude E. Cochrane
PLUMBING AND HEATING
All Work Guaranteed.
15 Court St., Phone Red 327

SICK FOLKS

appreciate the full value of choice flowers. We have choice flowers—a plenteous lot of them, best of varieties, sweet odored and in fine color. Have you a sick friend?

DOWNS FLORAL CO.

Milton and Prospect Aves. We make prompt and accurate deliveries. BOTH PHONES. Street car passes our door.

Every Woman Will Be Interested

If you will send your name and address you will mail you FREE a package of Another Gray's AUSTRIAN PILLS. A certain, pleasant, safe cure for Women's ailments. It is a reliable regulator and never-failing. If you have pains in the back, urinary, bladder or kidney trouble, use this pleasant action of stomach, bowels, and liver. All druggists sell it, 50 cts. or address The Mother Gray Co., Le Roy, N. Y.

Where Do You Buy
Your Hardware?

We offer many savings in our hardware department. For instance our little 16 inch hammer (2 styles) sells in many places for 10c, and there are hundreds of little things here just as cheap. We list a few:
Large House Hammer.....10c
Hatchet.....10c
Handy Saw, 12 in. blade.....10c
Nickel Plated Bath Room Fixtures.....5c and 10c
Door Latch.....50c and 75c
Curtain and Wash Rods.....5c, 10c
Wardrobe Hooks.....10c doz.
Tinner Shears.....10c
Foot Scraper.....5c
All Kitchen Utensils, 5c and 10c
Don't fail to visit our Grocery Dept. We will save you money.

Nichols Store
32 SO. MAIN ST.A POPULAR PRICED POPULAR RESTAURANT
Wright's
Restaurant
113 W. Milwaukee St.

FLOWERS

Cut flowers, potted plants and all kinds of floral decorations at reasonable prices.

JANESVILLE FLORAL CO.

Edw. Amerpohl, Prop. We delivery anywhere. Both phones.

12 1-2c

That Is My Price
For Pressing
Men's Suits

It is worth your time to look me up.

I'm showing something very nifty in fancy vestings at $2.50 and up.

And separate trousers, too, at $3.50 and up.

Drop in and see me. I'm sure we will like each other.

WILLIAMS

THE CLOTHING DOCTOR.
111 W. Milw. St. (downstairs).
New phone 801 Blue.

EASY! EASY!

Spring house cleaning made easy by having carpets and rugs cleaned away from the home. After installing a new machine, we are ready to clean carpets and rugs, calling for and delivering same in a prompt manner. Carefulness is our watchword. We would be pleased to do your spring cleaning.

FRED HESSENAUER

1402 Mineral Pt. Ave.

NORTHWESTERN MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO.

Frank A. Blackman, District Manager. Jackson Block.

The dividend paying company of America. Dividends determine cost. Rock County phone, 251. Old, 1382.

Read advertisements and save money

A PERFECT FORM

is desired by every woman, and yet many women who have shrunken, hollow parts, flabby busts are weak and thin can readily acquire a well rounded form if they will take some tonic in the spring.

HEIMSTREET'S

Court and Main Streets

Shur-On
EYE GLASSES
Pretty Women
like to wear Shur-Ons because then they improve the look as well as the sight. They combine the convenience and neat appearance of eye-glasses with the service derived by wearing unsightly spectacles.
Come in and let us show you them.
WILLIAMS
OPTICIAN
Grand Hotel Bldg.

E. H. PELTON
TIN SHOP
113 E. Milwaukee St.
Phone 819 Red.

Gutter Work
Roofing
Furnaces
Work of first quality and at prices that are not exorbitant.

Estimates furnished on
CONTRACTING & BUILDING
Exclusive manufacturer of the Maudt Cement Block, the best two-piece block on the market. Inspection requested.
J. A. DENNING
SHOP, 56 SO. FRANKLIN.
Residence, 423 Cherry St. Both phones.

House-Cleaning Time
you need a
SULPHUR CANDLE or a
DU FREE FORMALDEHYDE FUMIGATOR
35c
Will kill every germ in an ordinary room, 1000 cu. feet. Used by all health departments. Come in and ask about them. They kill contagious disease and make your home safe to live in.

Baker's Drug Store

EASY! EASY!
Spring house cleaning made easy by having carpets and rugs cleaned away from the home. After installing a new machine, we are ready to clean carpets and rugs, calling for and delivering same in a prompt manner. Carefulness is our watchword. We would be pleased to do your spring cleaning.
FRED HESSENAUER
1402 Mineral Pt. Ave.

NORTHWESTERN MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO.
Frank A. Blackman, District Manager. Jackson Block.

The dividend paying company of America. Dividends determine cost. Rock County phone, 251. Old, 1382.

Read advertisements and save money

Don't be Deceived In Silk Gloves

Every genuine Kayser has the name in the hem. That is for your protection.

For 25 years, the name Kayser has stood for finish and fit—for the patent tip—for a fabric that wears like iron.

Don't be misled. Get the gloves that you know.

Patent
Finger-Tipped
Silk Gloves

Our infinite skill in making silk gloves results from 25 years of experience.

The fabric is made in our factory. The finish and fit come through fifty operations. Kayser gloves can't be imitated. But many pay the same price for inferior gloves, because they don't look in the hem.

Short Silk Gloves, 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25
Long Silk Gloves, 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50

JULIUS KAYSER & CO., Makers, New York

TRUE WISDOM.

"The man that speaks a dozen tongues in silence," says Pat; "but, thin, he's wiser still if he has one to keep his mouth shut in."

Find another Irishman.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience, a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitive women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its ingredients on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.

CHAPTER IX.

The "Fresh-Airers."

First I tried that door, then Hartley tried it, and then Van, each of us just as soft and quiet as possible. Then we listened. Not a sound.

Then Van catches me by the arm and begins to pull me and Martin back along the hall. When we got to the end, by the parlor door, he whispers, low and cautious:

"We must break the door down. It's locked on the inside. Better turn it lamp on the stairs. Better turn it down, too. A light gives the other man all the advantage if it comes to shooting. Now ready, when I say the word. All rush together. One—two—"

"Wait a minute," whispers Hartley. "he was always cool-headed. 'Where's James?'"

"James?" repeats Van. "What? James?"

"James?" says I. And then I began to get my senses back. Wako a feller up out of a sound sleep the way we was and it takes a few minutes for him to get on earth again.

"James?" says I. "I'll be—"

"Idiot!" says Van, speaking about himself. I judge. Then he walks down the hall and gives that door a kick.

"James," he sings out. "Is that you? Open this door."

For a second or two there wa'n't a sound. Then a voice says, weak and chattering: "Ooh, my soul!"

"What's the matter with him?" says Van. "Is he hurt? Where's the key, skipper? Inside, of course. But—"

Then I remembered. "There ain't any keyhole," I says. "There's no lock on the door."

"Then what—? Come on, Martin."

He set his shoulder to the door and commenced to shove. No and Hartley helped, and the door began to open. It opened slow, because the dining table and two or three chairs and the chest of drawers was braced against it. We got in finally.

"Bring the lamp," says Hartley. I done it. The room was empty.

"James!" hollers Van. "James!"

The closet door opens just a crack. Then it swings wide and an old clam-shell, stagers into the room.

"Oh!" says he. "Oh, Mr. Van Brunt, sir!"

He was shaking like a palsy.

"What are you, man?" says Hartley. "Speak up."

The violet rolls his eyes around to me.

"I seen it," he says. "I seen it plain. It's him!"

"Him? Who?" says I.

"The ghost. The old cove as owned this 'ouse. 'E was up in my room a-waitin' for me."

"What are you talking about?" asks Van, impatient. I begun to see light, but the Heavens didn't—not yet.

"'E was up in my room, sir," said Lord James, wild like. "I 'ad me coat and waistcoat off, sir, and then I goes over to the mirror intending to see if me face looked as 'ot as it felt. And I lights my lamp and there 'e was a-gleaming at me. 'E 'ad 'is 'ead through the mirror, sir. And there was collars around, and wraiths. It's a warning to me, sir. I'm a dead man."

"About ten o'clock Scudder shows up with the first dory load of Fresh Airers from the Eastwick place. Miss Agnes come along with 'em. Then the second load come, cap'n by the 'Tadford girl. And then there was doings."

Them Fresh Air young ones wa'n't all of a piece with Reddy, which was a mercy. He was a handful in himself, that little sorrel-top was—but there was enough like him to keep things stirred up. Marcellus' old slinking prison had to take it that day. There must have been some stewing in Heaven if old Lady Derry could look down and see them youngsters whooping and carrying on in the front parlor. In Mrs. B's day that parlor was a kind of saint's rest, as you might say, and the only time anybody opened its door was when she called in with the broom and feather duster. And then she

"And then we began to laugh. 'The presents!' says Van, between roars. 'Scudder's hairdoings. Hot hot!' His lordship stared at us like he thought we was crazy. I more than half pitied him. Martin did too, I guess, for he says:

"It's all right, James. Just one of Mr. Van Brunt's jokes. You see—"

"But I saw 'im, sir. 'E was there, and there was wraiths and collars 'ung about, and—"

"It's all right," says I. "Here! come along and I'll show you."

But not one step would he stir. A derrick wouldn't have lifted him up them stairs. So I quit trying and went aloft and fetched down the crayon enlargement and the wreath. Then I set out to explain.

"Why, you imbecile!" says Van. "Where's your taste for art? We were beautifying your room. Taking off the bare look, as per Scudder."

James' color begun to come back. And when it come it come thick. He reddened up as you could see it even through the sun-burn.

"Mr. Van Brunt," he says, getting madder every minute, "I give you notice, I leave to-morrow morning."

"Don't be an idiot!" begins Van, but his lordship cut him short.

"I leave to-morrow morning," he shouts. "Ain't it enough to bring me to this clank-foraken 'ole and work me 'all to death and blister me from 'ead to foot, without this? I give you warning now. I'm going 'ome. And you be glad I ain't 'avin' the law on you for this outrage. Us poor servants 'as rights, and—"

There was more, plenty more. We couldn't shut him up. And the Heavens' explanations didn't count either. He was dead set on leaving in the morning.

Finally, we give it up and went back to bed. Lord James said he was going to stay in the kitchen all night. Nothing would hire him to sleep in Marcellus' receiving tomb again.

"Humph!" says Hartley, as the Twins went upstairs. "It looks to me as if your joke had lost us the best valet you ever had, Van."

Van cursed under his breath. "He shan't leave," he said. "I must keep him somehow. He's invaluable in the city, and we may go back there some time. Not for months, though, of course," he adds.

But in the morning James was worse set than ever. He wouldn't help with breakfast nor nothing; went aloft at daylight and begun to pack his trunk. He was going to leave, that's all there was about it.

The Twins was pretty blue during breakfast. Van about losing his lordship and Hartley on account of sun-burn, I calculate. "Was another elegant day and there was wind enough to keep the flies and mosquitoes away from the house. If you got in the lee, anywhere, though, they was laying for you in droves. They didn't bother me, 'count of my hide being tough and leathery and my flavor too salt; maybe; but they was fattening up fast on the Heavens' and James."

About ten o'clock Scudder shows up with the first dory load of Fresh Airers from the Eastwick place. Miss Agnes come along with 'em. Then the second load come, cap'n by the 'Tadford girl. And then there was doings."

Them Fresh Air young ones wa'n't all of a piece with Reddy, which was a mercy. He was a handful in himself, that little sorrel-top was—but there was enough like him to keep things stirred up. Marcellus' old slinking prison had to take it that day. There must have been some stewing in Heaven if old Lady Derry could look down and see them youngsters whooping and carrying on in the front parlor. In Mrs. B's day that parlor was a kind of saint's rest, as you might say, and the only time anybody opened its door was when she called in with the broom and feather duster. And then she

"And then we began to laugh. 'The presents!' says Van, between roars. 'Scudder's hairdoings. Hot hot!' His lordship stared at us like he thought we was crazy. I more than half pitied him. Martin did too, I guess, for he says:

"It's all right, James. Just one of Mr. Van Brunt's jokes. You see—"

"But I saw 'im, sir. 'E was there, and there was wraiths and collars 'ung about, and—"

"It's all right," says I. "Here! come along and I'll show you."

But not one step would he stir. A derrick wouldn't have lifted him up them stairs. So I quit trying and went aloft and fetched down the crayon enlargement and the wreath. Then I set out to explain.

"Why, you imbecile!" says Van. "Where's your taste for art? We were beautifying your room. Taking off the bare look, as per Scudder."

James' color begun to come back. And when it come it come thick. He reddened up as you could see it even through the sun-burn.

"Mr. Van Brunt," he says, getting madder every minute, "I give you notice, I leave to-morrow morning."

"Don't be an idiot!" begins Van, but his lordship cut him short.

"I leave to-morrow morning," he shouts. "Ain't it enough to bring me to this clank-foraken 'ole and work me 'all to death and blister me from 'ead to foot, without this? I give you warning now. I'm going 'ome. And you be glad I ain't 'avin' the law on you for this outrage. Us poor servants 'as rights, and—"

There was more, plenty more. We couldn't shut him up. And the Heavens' explanations didn't count either. He was dead set on leaving in the morning.

Finally, we give it up and went back to bed. Lord James said he was going to stay in the kitchen all night. Nothing would hire him to sleep in Marcellus' receiving tomb again.

"Humph!" says Hartley, as the Twins went upstairs. "It looks to me as if your joke had lost us the best valet you ever had, Van."

Van cursed under his breath. "He shan't leave," he said. "I must keep him somehow. He's invaluable in the city, and we may go back there some time. Not for months, though, of course," he adds.

But in the morning James was worse set than ever. He wouldn't help with breakfast nor nothing; went aloft at daylight and begun to pack his trunk. He was going to leave, that's all there was about it.

The Twins was pretty blue during breakfast. Van about losing his lordship and Hartley on account of sun-burn, I calculate. "Was another elegant day and there was wind enough to keep the flies and mosquitoes away from the house. If you got in the lee, anywhere, though, they was laying for you in droves. They didn't bother me, 'count of my hide being tough and leathery and my flavor too salt; maybe; but they was fattening up fast on the Heavens' and James."

About ten o'clock Scudder shows up with the first dory load of Fresh Airers from the Eastwick place. Miss Agnes come along with 'em. Then the second load come, cap'n by the 'Tadford girl. And then there was doings."

Them Fresh Air young ones wa'n't all of a piece with Reddy, which was a mercy. He was a handful in himself, that little sorrel-top was—but there was enough like him to keep things stirred up. Marcellus' old slinking prison had to take it that day. There must have been some stewing in Heaven if old Lady Derry could look down and see them youngsters whooping and carrying on in the front parlor. In Mrs. B's day that parlor was a kind of saint's rest, as you might say, and the only time anybody opened its door was when she called in with the broom and feather duster. And then she

"And then we began to laugh. 'The presents!' says Van, between roars. 'Scudder's hairdoings. Hot hot!' His lordship stared at us like he thought we was crazy. I more than half pitied him. Martin did too, I guess, for he says:

"It's all right, James. Just one of Mr. Van Brunt's jokes. You see—"

"But I saw 'im, sir. 'E was there, and there was wraiths and collars 'ung about, and—"

"It's all right," says I. "Here! come along and I'll show you."

But not one step would he stir. A derrick wouldn't have lifted him up them stairs. So I quit trying and went aloft and fetched down the crayon enlargement and the wreath. Then I set out to explain.

"Why, you imbecile!" says Van. "Where's your taste for art? We were beautifying your room. Taking off the bare look, as per Scudder."

James' color begun to come back. And when it come it come thick. He reddened up as you could see it even through the sun-burn.

"Mr. Van Brunt," he says, getting madder every minute, "I give you notice, I leave to-morrow morning."

"Don't be an idiot!" begins Van, but his lordship cut him short.

"I leave to-morrow morning," he shouts. "Ain't it enough to bring me to this clank-foraken 'ole and work me 'all to death and blister me from 'ead to foot, without this? I give you warning now. I'm going 'ome. And you be glad I ain't 'avin' the law on you for this outrage. Us poor servants 'as rights, and—"

There was more, plenty more. We couldn't shut him up. And the Heavens' explanations didn't count either. He was dead set on leaving in the morning.

Finally, we give it up and went back to bed. Lord James said he was going to stay in the kitchen all night. Nothing would hire him to sleep in Marcellus' receiving tomb again.

"Humph!" says Hartley, as the Twins went upstairs. "It looks to me as if your joke had lost us the best valet you ever had, Van."

Van cursed under his breath. "He shan't leave," he said. "I must keep him somehow. He's invaluable in the city, and we may go back there some time. Not for months, though, of course," he adds.

But in the morning James was worse set than ever. He wouldn't help with breakfast nor nothing; went aloft at daylight and begun to pack his trunk. He was going to leave, that's all there was about it.

The Twins was pretty blue during breakfast. Van about losing his lordship and Hartley on account of sun-burn, I calculate. "Was another elegant day and there was wind enough to keep the flies and mosquitoes away from the house. If you got in the lee, anywhere, though, they was laying for you in droves. They didn't bother me, 'count of my hide being tough and leathery and my flavor too salt; maybe; but they was fattening up fast on the Heavens' and James."

About ten o'clock Scudder shows up with the first dory load of Fresh Airers from the Eastwick place. Miss Agnes come along with 'em. Then the second load come, cap'n by the 'Tadford girl. And then there was doings."

Them Fresh Air young ones wa'n't all of a piece with Reddy, which was a mercy. He was a handful in himself, that little sorrel-top was—but there was enough like him to keep things stirred up. Marcellus' old slinking prison had to take it that day. There must have been some stewing in Heaven if old Lady Derry could look down and see them youngsters whooping and carrying on in the front parlor. In Mrs. B's day that parlor was a kind of saint's rest, as you might say, and the only time anybody opened its door was when she called in with the broom and feather duster. And then she

"And then we began to laugh. 'The presents!' says Van, between roars. 'Scudder's hairdoings. Hot hot!' His lordship stared at us like he thought we was crazy. I more than half pitied him. Martin did too, I guess, for he says:

"It's all right, James. Just one of Mr. Van Brunt's jokes. You see—"

"But I saw 'im, sir. 'E was there, and there was wraiths and collars 'ung about, and—"

"It's all right," says I. "Here! come along and I'll show you."

But not one step would he stir. A derrick wouldn't have lifted him up them stairs. So I quit trying and went aloft and fetched down the crayon enlargement and the wreath. Then I set out to explain.

"Why, you imbecile!" says Van. "Where's your taste for art? We were beautifying your room. Taking off the bare look, as per Scudder."

James' color begun to come back. And when it come it come thick. He reddened up as you could see it even through the sun-burn.

"Mr. Van Brunt," he says, getting madder every minute, "I give you notice, I leave to-morrow morning."

"Don't be an idiot!" begins Van, but his lordship cut him short.

"I leave to-morrow morning," he shouts. "Ain't it enough to bring me to this clank-foraken 'ole and work me 'all to death and blister me from 'ead to foot, without this? I give you warning now. I'm going 'ome. And you be glad I ain't 'avin' the law on you for this outrage. Us poor servants 'as rights, and—"

There was more, plenty more. We couldn't shut him up. And the Heavens' explanations didn't count either. He was dead set on leaving in the morning.

Finally, we give it up and went back to bed. Lord James said he was going to stay in the kitchen all night. Nothing would hire him to sleep in Marcellus' receiving tomb again.

"Humph!" says Hartley, as the Twins went upstairs. "It looks to me as if your joke had lost us the best valet you ever had, Van."

Van cursed under his breath. "He shan't leave," he said. "I must keep him somehow. He's invaluable in the city, and we may go back there some time. Not for months, though, of course," he adds.

But in the morning James was worse set than ever. He wouldn't help with breakfast nor nothing; went aloft at daylight and begun to pack his trunk. He was going to leave, that's all there was about it.

The Twins was pretty blue during breakfast. Van about losing his lordship and Hartley on account of sun-burn, I calculate. "Was another elegant day and there was wind enough to keep the flies and mosquitoes away from the house. If you got in the lee, anywhere, though, they was laying for you in droves. They didn't bother me, 'count of my hide being tough and leathery and my flavor too salt; maybe; but they was fattening up fast on the Heavens' and James."

About ten o'clock Scudder shows up with the first dory load of Fresh Airers from the Eastwick place. Miss Agnes come along with 'em. Then the second load come, cap'n by the 'Tadford girl. And then there was doings."

Them Fresh Air young ones wa'n't all of a piece with Reddy, which was a mercy. He was a handful in himself, that little sorrel-top was—but there was enough like him to keep things stirred up. Marcellus' old slinking prison had to take it that day. There must have been some stewing in Heaven if old Lady Derry could look down and see them youngsters whooping and carrying on in the front parlor. In Mrs. B's day that parlor was a kind of saint's rest, as you might say, and the only time anybody opened its door was when she called in with the broom and feather duster. And then she

"And then we began to laugh. 'The presents!' says Van, between roars. 'Scudder's hairdoings. Hot hot!' His lordship stared at us like he thought we was crazy. I more than half pitied him. Martin did too, I guess, for he says:

"It's all right, James. Just one of Mr. Van Brunt's jokes. You see—"

"But I saw 'im, sir. 'E was there, and there was wraiths and collars 'ung about, and—"

"It's all right," says I. "Here! come along and I'll show you."

But not one step would he stir. A derrick wouldn't have lifted him up them stairs. So I quit trying and went aloft and fetched down the crayon enlargement and the wreath. Then I set out to explain.

"Why, you imbecile!" says Van. "Where's your taste for art? We were beautifying your room. Taking off the bare look, as per Scudder."

James' color begun to come back. And when it come it come thick. He reddened up as you could see it even through the sun-burn.

"Mr. Van Brunt," he says, getting madder every minute, "I give you notice, I leave to-morrow morning."

"Don't be an idiot!" begins Van, but his lordship cut him short.

"I leave to-morrow morning," he shouts. "Ain't it enough to bring me to this clank-foraken 'ole and work me 'all to death and blister me from 'ead to foot, without this? I give you warning now. I'm going 'ome. And you be glad I ain't 'avin' the law on you for this outrage. Us poor servants 'as rights, and—"

There was more, plenty more. We couldn't shut him up. And the Heavens' explanations didn't count either. He was dead set on leaving in the morning.

Finally, we give it up and went back to bed. Lord James said he was going to stay in the kitchen all night. Nothing would hire him to sleep in Marcellus' receiving tomb again.

"Humph!" says Hartley, as the Twins went upstairs. "It looks to me as if your joke had lost us the best valet you ever had, Van."

Van cursed under his breath. "He shan't leave," he said. "I must keep him somehow. He's invaluable in the city, and we may go back there some time. Not for months, though, of course," he adds.

But in the morning James was worse set than ever. He wouldn't help with breakfast nor nothing; went aloft at daylight and begun to pack his trunk. He was going to leave, that's all there was about it.

The Twins was pretty blue during breakfast. Van about losing his lordship and Hartley on account of sun-burn, I calculate. "Was another elegant day and there was wind enough to keep the flies and mosquitoes away from the house. If you got in the lee, anywhere, though, they was laying for you in droves. They didn't bother me, 'count of my hide being tough and leathery and my flavor too salt; maybe; but they was fattening up fast on the Heavens' and James."

About ten o'clock Scudder shows up with the first dory load of Fresh Airers from the Eastwick place. Miss Agnes come along with 'em. Then the second load come, cap'n by the 'Tadford girl. And then there was doings."

Them Fresh Air young ones wa'n't all of a piece with Reddy, which was a mercy. He was a handful in himself, that little sorrel-top was—but there was enough like him to keep things stirred up. Marcellus' old slinking prison had to take it that day. There must have been some stewing in Heaven if old Lady Derry could look down and see them youngsters whooping and carrying on in the front parlor. In Mrs. B's day that parlor was a kind of saint's rest, as you might say, and the only time anybody opened its door was when she called in with the broom and feather duster. And then she

"And then we began to laugh. 'The presents!' says Van, between roars. 'Scudder's hairdoings. Hot hot!' His lordship stared at us like he thought we was crazy. I more than half pitied him. Martin did too, I guess, for he says:

"It's all right, James. Just one of Mr. Van Brunt's jokes. You see—"

"But I saw 'im, sir. 'E was there, and there was wraiths and collars 'ung about, and—"

"It's all right," says I. "Here! come along and I'll show you."

But not one step would he stir. A derrick wouldn't have lifted him up them stairs. So I quit trying and went aloft and fetched down the crayon enlargement and the wreath. Then I set out to explain.

"Why, you imbecile!" says Van. "Where's your taste for art? We were beautifying your room. Taking off the bare look, as per Scudder."

James' color begun to come back. And when it come it come thick. He reddened up as you could see it even through the sun-burn.

"Mr. Van Brunt," he says, getting madder every minute, "I give you notice, I leave to-morrow morning."

"Don't be an idiot!" begins Van, but his lordship cut him short.

"I leave to-morrow morning," he shouts. "Ain't it enough to bring me to this clank-foraken 'ole and work me 'all to death and blister me from 'ead to foot, without this? I give you warning now. I'm going 'ome. And you be glad I ain't 'avin' the law on you for this outrage. Us poor servants 'as rights, and—"

There was more, plenty more. We couldn't shut him up. And the Heavens' explanations didn't count either. He was dead set on leaving in the morning.

Finally, we give it up and went back to bed. Lord James said he was going to stay in the kitchen all night. Nothing would hire him to sleep in Marcellus' receiving tomb again.

"Humph!" says Hartley, as the Twins went upstairs. "It looks to me as if your joke had lost us the best valet you ever had, Van."

Van cursed under his breath. "He shan't leave," he said. "I must keep him somehow. He's invaluable in the city, and we may go back there some time. Not for months, though, of course," he adds.

But in the morning James was worse set than ever. He wouldn't help with breakfast nor nothing; went aloft at daylight and begun to pack his trunk. He was going to leave, that's all there was about it.

The Twins was pretty blue during breakfast. Van about losing his lordship and Hartley on account of sun-burn, I calculate. "Was another elegant day and there was wind enough to keep the flies and mosquitoes away from the house. If you got in the lee, anywhere, though, they was laying for you in droves. They didn't bother me, 'count of my hide being tough

